"Our, the American People's" President Joe Biden/Vice-President Kamala Harris Administration has decided medical debt shall not be included on people's credit reports. Stated reason being people ought not be deprived economic opportunity because they have medical bills. America's lenders would be prudent to require borrowers to state, in writing, their total monies owed, irrespective type of debt.

"That all central banking is a government-licensed enforcement arrangement of a well-organized, well-funded cartel. As with all cartels, it operates at the expense of competitors who would otherwise offer better opportunities to the public."

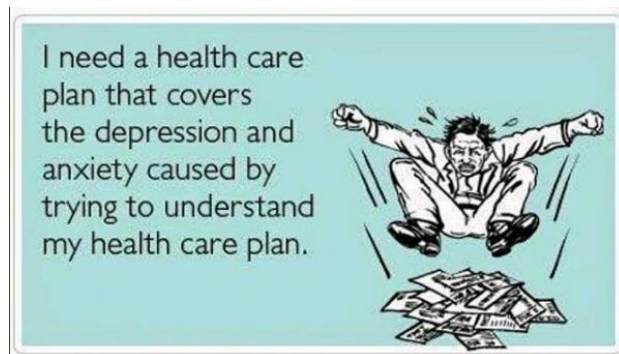

~ Gary North

"We, the American People," as a result of Biden-Harris Administration move to exclude credit report medical debt, are to have more opportunities for debt forgiveness. Debt forgiveness. Someone else pays. Not debtors, if government has lawful power to forgive debt on behalf of debtors. Medical service has a cost. No different than getting anything on credit. Someone's time, effort, worth is required.

"Properly speaking, money and law are natural outgrowths of human society, evolving over time via the voluntary cooperation that lies at the heart of the social enterprise."

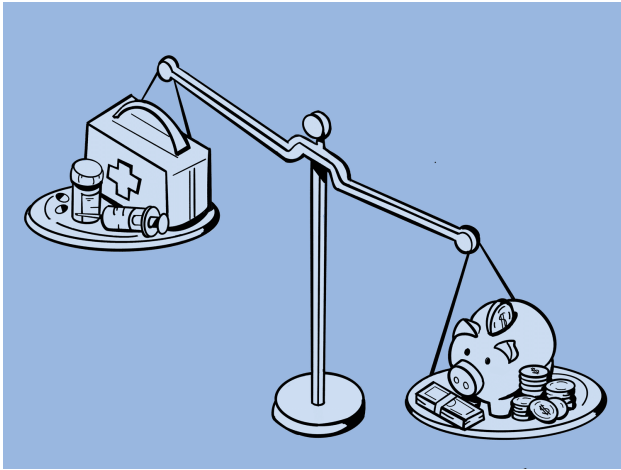

~ D. G. White

It is One Thing For People to volunteer their time and resources to lend a helping hand. It is another thing when government has power to confiscate people's property (wealth) or force people to use their time as government directs to help others or for any reason. Government having power to do so amounts to government having power to define values and control all wealth to advance those values.

"The Federal Reserve in collaboration with the giant banks has created the greatest financial crisis the world has ever seen."

~ Ron Paul

It Will Be Nigh Impossible for "Us, the American People" to have stability in our lives while we allow government to confiscate property (wealth) and restrict choice (Liberty). Government interfering with private sector financial matters makes everyone at risk, financially and otherwise. We can remedy this situation by decentralizing lawful power and eradicating direct taxation. By sovereign citizenry control.

"The U.S. government is now sending teams of energy conservation specialists to accompany soldiers fighting in Afghanistan. It is the crab fishermen operating off the coast of Alaska who are reputed to have the world's most dangerous job."

~ David Galland

People Intending To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators - or other public officials within These United States of America, to offer amnesty to illegal aliens until those illegal aliens agree to become and become United States citizens. They use their citizen sovereignty to protect their lives, their property, and their future.

"Our addictive attraction to the power of government to improve our lives is the very thing that has got us into our current predicament, and that government, far from securing our lives, liberty, and property, is the only real threat to them."

If “We, the American People” think we can get a grip on America’s $36.2T debt by growing America’s economy, we’re nuts. Or, so claims a recently appearing media article calling for implementing a 13-measure plan put together by researchers who came up with something called Penn Wharton Budget Model (PWBM). PWBM-based 13 reforms consist of some 6,586 words, facts, figure, tables.

"Money supply from 1946-2009 has been increased 5,938% to $8,235,900,000,000. In that time, the U.S. has seen 10 recessions, constant military action, massive expansion of government power, an explosion of the welfare state and the complete annihilation of the buying power of the U.S. dollar."

“Our, the American People’s” American Grandmother’s Household Management Training Program (AGHMTP) would find PWBM impracticable and unnecessary. Our AGHMTP has three measures. 1. Don’t spend more than you earn. 2. Avoid unnecessary spending. 3. Save for a rainy day. AGHMTP is fourteen words. Our legislators would, in all likelihood, take PWBM over AGHMTP for deeper debt.

"It is clear to even a casual observer that Congress has abused its power to tax and spend. It has taxed success to subsidize failure. It has purchased votes by enacting an unending stream of entitlement programs, financed by taxation, foreign debt and a progressive degradation of the U.S. paper dollar."

~ John Browne

We Can Bet Our Bottom Dollars our legislators would reject AGHMTP out of hand. AGHMTP wasn't conceived by Ivy League University economics. Moreover, AGHMTP doesn't take Congressional hearings to review and verify AGHMTP validity. AGHMTP's been used without failure whenever it's been tried. AGHMTP, though, doesn't require government oversight. Legislators will have none of it.

"Commodity money such as gold and silver arose spontaneously on the market without prodding from kings or sultans, and if used today it would serve as a much better unit of account and store of value than rapidly depreciating pieces of paper with presidential portraits."

~ Robert P. Murphy

It's Up To "Us, the American People." We can take on PWBM-conceived 13-reforms plan, and have our legislators spend untold millions or billions trying to make it work. Or, we can adopt AGHMTP's three-step method and watch America's national debt wither away. History would show we'll opt for America's legislators to opt for PWBM. After all, we've let legislators run things a quarter millennium.

The Day Of Insurrection Remembered

It is always a dark day when a government (or a political party) decides to turn on its people; putting party and power before We the People.

BETH ANN

JAN 6

1-6-2025

January 6, 2025, we are now five years after the “day of the insurrection” that took place in Congress. It was not a riotous crowd, but an insurrection by the deep-state-established-government-actors who plotted the theft of an election, then instigated rioting and subsequently plotted yet another frame-up of President Trump. They used the day of insurrection phrase over and over again. In their anger and arrogance, they punished citizens by making them political prisoners, and examples to any other citizens who might dare to question the “established government” elites.

But today, as the election process was finalized according to the Constitution, Congress certified the electoral votes. Let it be noted, however, today was the first time in this century that the Democrats did not challenge the GOP President’s Electoral votes.

Upgrade to paid

I just listened with queasy repugnance and disgust to Senator Schumer's recollection of January 6, 2021. Before today's certification process took place, Senator Chuck Schumer, the liar in state, stood up and gave a solemn but phony speech of remembrance, remembering the day of insurrection. Schumer said it was not an out of hand mob rioting, but a deliberate and in some cases preplanned, attack. He is partly correct; as the FBI disguised, as President Trump supporters, deliberately infiltrated the crowd and instigated them into a mob, encouraging bad behavior. The Capitol police were instructed to shoot tear gas grenades into a peaceful crowd standing outside the capitol building. He's still repeating the same lies and referring to January 6 as the darkest day in American history. He's angry that President Trump plans to pardon American citizens who have been locked up for the crimes of "trespassing" and "destruction of property." None were charged with an insurrection; but he continues to spout the lie.

Why would "they" do such a thing? Well, "they" did not want Americans to witness the vote certification process. The Democrats knew that several representatives, backed by Senators, were going to contest the certification of several states; Pennsylvania, Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, and Wisconsin. This contest was not going to go well for the Democrats. They knew that the elections in those states were unconstitutional according to their own state election laws. “They” could not allow this constitutional process of investigating the votes before certification, to take place. Their partners in political crimes stepped up to confuse and disrupt the day of counting. After all, it was Joe Biden himself that stated, “We have put together, I think, the most extensive and inclusive voter fraud organization in the history of American politics.”

While some of the crowd was provoked to anger, others were ushered into the Capitol by what seemed to be “friendly cops.”

Schumer mentioned police officers who later died because of the “day of insurrection.” One officer died because of a stroke and others were suicide. I can’t help but wonder what happened that day to make them commit suicide.

Schumer failed to mention; mostly because citizens do not matter to him, that there were several American citizens who also died that day. Others were hospitalized due to the police brutality, mob stampeding and anxiety.

An unarmed citizen, Rosanne Boyland had a medical emergency, but the attention she received was a beating by a Capitol police officer. Rosanne died from the neglect and her wounds. An unarmed military vet, Ashley Babbit, was shot to death by a Capitol police officer. Two others died of heart attacks: According to an April release from the Washington, D.C., medical examiner’s office, Kevin Greeson and Benjamin Phillips, both died of cardiovascular disease, and the manner of death was deemed “natural.” The heart attacks occurred after tear gas was shot into the crowd; it was a horrific scene that is seldom shown by the media.

One of the biggest lies is regarding police officer Sicknick. He did not die from being hit in the head by a fire extinguisher, but he died (off duty) after suffering a brain aneurism.

"The day of insurrection" was made complete hours after the rioting at the capitol was quieted; Joe Biden was declared the winner and would be installed as President of the United States come January 20, 2021.

The insurrection was successful, as they put in office a man who they knew was mentally incapable of leading this nation. The lies of Biden's mental and physical state have been poured out by democrats, Biden's administration, and the media throughout the campaign and the duration of his presidency.

Upgrade to paid

Chuck Schumer declared "the day of insurrection" was the darkest day in the history of our nation. But like most lies, the politicians always conveniently leave out truth.

In 1812: While the capitol building was still under construction, the British burned it.

In 1814: The British once again burned down the U.S. Capitol.

In 1835: A British immigrant attempted to assassinate President Andrew Jackson.

In 1856: In the Senate Chamber, Democrat Representative Preston Brooks, viciously beat Massachusetts Senator Charles Sumner with a cane. His crime was giving a speech against slavery. Of course, this nation's civil war was not near as dark and insidious as January 6, 2021.

In 1915: On July 4, Harvard Professor Erich Mueunter used three sticks of dynamite to set off an explosion in the Senate Reception Room, there was a great deal of damage, but no injuries.

In 1954: Four Puerto Rico Nationalists opened fire and waved territory flags in the House Gallery. Five members were wounded. In 1979, then President Carter (the decent one) commuted their sentences.

In 1971: The “Weather Underground” planted a bomb in the bathroom of the Senate. The bombing caused hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage; there were no casualties.

In 1983: The “Armed Resistance” set off a bomb in the Senate. There were no casualties but lots of property damage.

In 1988: A gunman shot two Capitol Police officers.

On January 6, 2021, there was very little property damage, one unarmed female vet shot to death, another unarmed woman beaten as she was suffering from a medical emergency unable to breathe, numerous casualties from abuses and two cardiac deaths from the effects of tear gas and mob incitement. No officers died that day, but for some reason days later several decided to commit suicide and one died of natural causes; a brain aneurism. No civilians in the crowd that day were armed and dangerous. However there were armed and dangerous FBI insurgents present.

Schumer is correct, it was a dark day in American history. Our own government took the initiative to control an election and punish any citizen who might object to, or want to witness the certification process. It is always a dark day when a government decides to turn on its people; and that’s what we witnessed January 6, 2021. Schumer lied again today, as he has been lying to Americans for the last 5 years!

As the truth comes to light more and more each day, we feel the sting of Joe Biden’s handlers as they slap the American people in the face with their utter contempt for us all. As they prepare to leave the White House, their PEACEFUL

TRANSFER OF POWER takes on an ominous form of political wall building to prevent President Trump from doing what We the People elected him to do.

The handlers of Joe are handing out pardons and awards like candy. I wouldn't be surprised if the next award isn't a "Most Improved Business Award," to honor the Mexican Cartel for selling more drugs and humans than any other cartel in American history.

Many of us are anxious, but cautiously optimistic, to have a true elected leader back in the White House. The current administration is doing all they can to hinder his success.

President Trump and his administration cannot "fix" America by themselves. We the People must continue to fight for them and hold the politicians on both sides of the aisle accountable.

Bring America Home©.
