"All power is limited by definite boundaries and laws. No power is absolute, infinite, unbridled, arbitrary, and lawless. Every power is bound to laws, right, and equity."

"The selection of government rulers by means of popular elections makes it essentially impossible for a harmless or decent person to ever rise to the top."

~ Hans-Herman Hoppe

"Our, the American People's" President Donald J. Trump is racking up an ever-growing enemy list. Media report President Donald J. issued e-mail pink slips to 17 federal inspectors-general who'd been appointed during President Donald J.'s first term. Donald J. critics are likely to swoop like eagles after surface-hugging fish. Could make a case for inspectors-general or Donald J. changing perspectives.

"Politics could not function in a democracy without the votes of the terminally gullible. Terminally gullible voters are always in the hip pockets of whichever political party they belong to. People in a politician's hip pocket spend most of their lives being sat on."

~ Gary North

"We, the American People," if we expect government to be unbiased, fair, consistent, politically neutral, and all those wonderful things government is supposed to do whilst serving citizens (as opposed to subjects), would require our chief government executives to fire inspectors-general only when inspectors-general are incompetent, or for cause. But - chief government executives are political.

"The logic is flawless: when a private business accidentally kills 146 people, we need to increase the power of the government, an entity that deliberately kills millions."

~ Gene Callahan

There Is A Remedy For "Us, the American People" to use in minimizing upheaval caused by chief government executives' political bias, and political bias ingrained in virtually all legislators and judges.

Prohibit legislators and judges from involving themselves in socio-economic problem-solving. Legislators and magistrates are no less inclined to want lawful power over people, than are other people.

"Yes, I killed innocent people for our government. I feel like I've had a hand in some sort of evil lie at the hands of our government. I just feel embarrassed, ashamed about it."

~ Jimmy Massey

Legislative-Judicial Power Applied to socio-economic discord gets all but nowhere other than to cause feuding camps to feud more intensely. It's as much our fault for allowing legislator and judge more lawful authority than necessary. Laws do little more, if anything more, than to divide winners and losers. We could limit judges to a singular role. Forcing warring sides to reach an agreement. None but.

"The Fed's 'bills' enter circulation, indirectly as a loan. Interest is being paid on every one, in that it is being paid on the bank credit that 'bought' the bills. My homemade 20s and 50s, though, enter circulation interest-free. So who's the bigger crook: the 'legal' counterfeiter, or the do-it-yourselfer?"

~ Paul Hein

People Intending To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to permit federal authorities or courts to define or limit their 10th Amendment powers beyond specific Constitutional constraint. They protect their lives and property against “State” intrusion.

Social media conservatives claim Vice-President J.D. should have had his first interview with a conservative host.

ENERGY, FOOD and WATER shall be kept at subsistence levels for the non-elite, starting with the WHITE populations of Western Europe and North America and then spreading to other races. "We, the American People" who are ardent believers in how we assimilate political notions fall victim to a long-standing error of shooting messengers because we don't like their message. It would be folly, were we to tell trusted friends or advisors not to say something we do not want to hear. Deceased famous and infamous talk show host, Rush Limbaugh, argued liberals should be heard, not suppressed.

“Our, the American People’s” first order of business, when confronting undesirable socio-economic annoyances is to define how it is those socio-economic annoyances come about. Problem-solving’s foremost useful step is definition. Problem-solving is far more evasive when problems at hand are not articulated with clarity. A business with low sales needs to figure out why customers don’t show up.

"When Bush says that torture is not indicative of American values, he is speaking of the old America, the America of restraint, the America that did not believe that the ends justify the means, a classically educated America that understood that hubris brings nemesis."

A Pennsylvania commonwealth state senator noted he’d do as he decided if not instructed otherwise.

"I didn't just find a misleading statistic or pronouncement here and there, now and then. I found it (and still do) every day, in every way, throughout the most respected information sources in the country, but most especially from no surprise-our government. This phenomenon isn't the exception. It's the rule."

~ Marilyn vos Savant

"Our, the American People's" President Donald J. Trump, shortly after taking office, ordered remotely-working federal employees back to work. Remotely-working federal employees were not happy, vowed local businesses boycott. How one could have known businesses boycotted by unhappy remotely-working workers told to go back to their offices were in league with Donald J. is unknown.

"By using every logical error known to mankind in an effort to further one or another special interest, we have begun to reap what we have sown--the seeds of intellectual weakness and mental disorder."

~ Marilyn vos Savant

Action, Reaction. Washington, D.C. Mayor is reported backing President Donald J. Trump's back-to-work order for a practical reason. More people in area to patronize local businesses. "We, the American People," given more-or-less split Election 2024 presidential vote, are, no doubt, taking sides. There is a fundamental question on who gets to decide where an employer's employee is to work.

"You might be a fascist if you believe that the proper way to decide whether a casino should be built in your hometown is to vote on the idea."

~ Russell Madden

President Donald J. Trump, If Nothing else, is working at ruffling every feather within bureaucracy's sight. Might not be a bad idea for more than a few of those ruffled feathers to settle down, find their roost. Before they are plucked, and have to find an available roost elsewhere. Government employees, while they are perceived, at least, to have comparative job security, are not unconditionally guaranteed.

"In order to advance its interests – and of those who control its apparatuses – the state encourages us to demand immediate benefits that will only be paid for much later, and by others."

Donald J. Trump's Presidency, Thus Far, has upset fruit baskets in all directions. How fruit basket owners will turn baskets over and refill them remains to be seen. It Could take "Us, the American People," acting as sovereign citizenry referees, to resolve some major sticking points between President Donald J. and those he is irritating. Not a quick fix, given we are, will likely be, split over Donald J.

"I peer through the periscope of the Mogambo Bunker, and note that things just keep getting more and more weird. Holding gold in one hand and a powerful handgun in the other seems to calm me down. I am calming down."

"The one factor that allows brute force to prevail, i.e., the willingness of men and women to subordinate themselves to the violence of others. "Wherever economic exploitation has been for any reason either impracticable or unprofitable, the State has never come into existence; government has existed, but the State, never."

~ Albert Jay Nock

"Our, the American People's" Congressional House legislators have introduced a bill for a Constitution amendment allowing President Doanld J. Trump to serve a third term. Completely unnecessary. America's federal (U.S./National) Constitution limits America's president s to two terms. There is nothing – nothing- to stop American voters from writing in any legislator indefinite times.

"Based on the idea of natural rights, government secures those rights to the individual by strictly negative intervention, making justice costless and easy of access; and beyond that it does not go."

~ Albert Jay Nock

America's Legislators, Contrary To, shall we say, popular, belief, do not serve America's commonwealth, federal (U.S./National) or state Constitutions. Representatives (legislators) swear to uphold Constitutional precepts, and, by doing so, to serve "Us, the American People." It is up to us, a sovereign citizenry, not America's Constitutions, how often we elect our representatives. Up to us.

"Take the State wherever found, striking into its history at any point, one sees no way to differentiate the activities of its founders, administrators and beneficiaries from those of a professional-criminal class."

~ Albert Jay Nock

No Victim, No Crime.

When It Comes To How "We, the American People" decide who shall be our representatives, we are akin to a jury. A jury with nullification power. It is we, not pieces of paper, who decide who shall be our representatives. Juries are not bound by law. Juries are bound only by their agreement on outcome. Were juries bound otherwise, or we to elect representatives, we would live under legislative tyranny.

"If we assume that the individual has an indisputable right to life, we must concede that he has a similar right to the enjoyment of the products of his labor. "

~ Frank Chodorov

Donald J. Trump Being Elected for a third term ought be a lesser concern for us, if we expect to have freedom in our lives. Our greater concern ought be to eradicate legislators' power to confiscate property (wealth) and restrict choice (Liberty). Government solutions to any problem are inherently rooted in lawful power to confiscate and restrict. By such power exertion, are we shackled by debt.

"We are prone to elect people who say what we want to hear, thereby putting in leadership positions more people who seek votes simply as a means to power, and fewer people of great stature. And perhaps the greatest irony of all, then, is that with this system, the people who have the least economic success have the most influence on our economy."

~ Marilyn vos Savant
