

The Fair Tax

Somehow, a monthly $200 "pre-bate" mailed to 300 million Americans ISN'T another massive entitlement program.

It Would Be Smart For "Us, the American People" to sit back and take a concerted look at fair taxation. Sundry fair taxation references vary in definition as much as they vary in number. Curiously, there is a more-or-less common theme in several references. Namely, there should be a uniform taxation rate for virtually all taxpayers regardless of economic status. Other references cite rates on ability to pay.

"Why bother building any more nuclear warheads until we've used the ones we have?"

Government Never Loses Its Craving for taxation. There is nothing government will not tax, if "We, the American People" (people everywhere) will allow. Understandable. Government is, like it or not, parasitical. Much like Remora riding on sharks. Tax-seeking legislators are, media report, looking at ways to tax industry automation, such as robotics or Artificial Intelligence (AI). Not theirs, for sure.

“Today, we need a nation of Minutemen, citizens who are not only prepared to take arms, but citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as the basic purpose of their daily life and who are willing to consciously work and sacrifice for that freedom.”

~ John F. Kennedy

We Would Be Irretrievably Naïve to expect we'll see any semblance of consensus on fair taxation. There is a media article in circulation saying efforts to tax wealthy people stem from government's inability to be frugal financial managers. Article bases said argument on incessant deficit spending and arbitrary initiatives like taxing unrealized capital gains taxing appreciation as though it were income.

“You [should] not examine legislation in the light of the benefits it will convey if properly administered, but in the light of the wrongs it would do and the harm it would cause if improperly administered”

“We, the American People” would be taxed for air we breathe, for listening, even taxed for open eyes. If taxaholics could get away with it. Media word is Golden State motorists are seething over pending tax-per-mile they could face. Motor vehicle fuel taxes are on order of $0.50 per gallon nationwide. Not enough for Golden State legislators. New fuel tax range would cost motorists $250-$1,000/year.

If Biden or Harris were President right now, Iran would still have its nuclear facility. Hamas would still have hostages. Maduro would still be in charge. Our border would still be open. Thank God America woke up last election!

Depending On Reference Referenced, a typical American family shells out some $18,000(+) annually for roadway costs. With a typical American family income just over $63,000, a typical family antes up a bit over 28% of their income to cover roadway costs. Wouldn't hurt for "Us, the American People" to have government do some serious cost-cutting to keep roadway costs affordable to taxpayers.

“Our, the American People’s” government runs on a ‘government-knows-best’ idea. A little digging on ‘government-knows-best’ will let inquiring minds know if ordinary people subscribe to a ‘government-knows-best’ concept, undue regulation and control over people results. We, being a sovereign citizenry, can force government to get our OK before acting on ‘government-knows-best.’

We Would Be Utter Fools to think government will lose its taxation appetite. Unmet needs of Americans are too vast. Government needs unlimited taxation to help those struggling Americans who depend on government services to keep their heads above water. It would be less a problem if wealthy Americans paid their fair share. Yet, they must. Government makes tax laws. Government knows best.

Western Civilization vs. The Uncivilized

I'm the owner and host of CSC Talk Radio, a conservative radio talk show. I have a small network of stations who carry my show along with WWCR shortwave. That being said, you should understand I am opinionated. I am a female, I am a Christian, unapologetically. I'm not famous, I'm not wealthy. In fact, we barely make enough revenue to keep the lights on; I draw no salary and my very capable assistant ("Executive Manager" is on his business card) volunteers his time every day to CSC Talk Radio. So why do I continue? There's no logical reason to keep things going; that's true. I had a friend ask me just this week, "Why don't you just retire?" It's hard to explain to others who do not understand. While it is work, it's not a job... it's a calling. I love my country! I'm worried about our nation! I used to say the only thing that scares a liberal more than a conservative with a gun, is a conservative female with a microphone. I don't know if I'm making any liberals shake in their boots, but I hope I give my audience lots of food for thought and encouragement. Another thing to know about me and CSC Talk Radio is that I broadcast from the American heartland of this nation: Rural America... the Show Me State of Missouri!

I won't bore you with my life's story or my journey into broadcasting, but I think, if you're reading this, we probably agree... America is in trouble! Western civilization is under attack! I enjoy reading some of Thomas Paine's writings. "The American Crisis," by Thomas Paine, is not only interesting, but still pertinent to America today. "These are still the times that try men's souls," and I believe the American crisis continues yet today. Perhaps the tyrant is no longer a king, but a group of elites, who, like the evil mad scientists in the movies, want to rule the world. They believe in the New World Order, we call them "Globalists." It's important to understand these mad men are not all men, and they are not on some galaxy or continent far-far-away... and they are not all democrats!

I read an article this week titled, "The EU Just Murdered Western Civilization" by Bradley A. Thayer, which I highly recommend to you.

It might be important for us to understand what is meant by the term "Western Civilization?" Well, it refers to a developed shared heritage of social norms, ethical values, traditional customs, belief systems, and political systems originating in Europe and of course spread throughout the Americas and even Australasia. Western civilization is deeply rooted in the foundations of Ancient Greece, Ancient Rome, and Christianity. Concepts that are emphasized are individualism, democracy and rational thought. Down home we call that common sense!

I ask myself, why would anyone want to destroy western civilization? The purpose would be to control. Individual thinking and common sense make tyrant-rule more difficult.

I suppose the opposite of a western civilization would be that which is termed uncivilized. Uncivilized refers to behaviors, societies, or individuals that violate established social, moral or cultural norms. Uncivilized is commonly characterized as rude, cruel, chaotic, or lacking refinement. Their behavior is impolite, rude, and disrespectful. They lack in integrity (no ethics) and the morals of the uncivilized persons or societies are barbaric, savage, brutal and extremely cruel.

I heard it asked once: What would the world look like if you removed all the Christians? What would it look like if all Western Civilizations were destroyed? I believe it would look much like what we've seen on the streets of Minnesota these past few weeks and during the 2020 Summer of Love riots. They weren't rioting to right a wrong that was done, they were rioting to destroy.

There is a darkness in America and around the world today. Evil is uncivilized. Christians have allowed, by tolerance and misplaced compassion, our culture and western civilization to be reduced to what we see today. If we want to preserve and save Western Civilization: Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness, and yes Freedom, it's time Christians cease their apathetic ways, pay attention in America! Stop voting for anybody in the Democrat Party (as they have denied God) and get yourselves involved. First Pray! Then Stand up and speak up for Liberty and...

Trump's First Year: Are We Winning?

The cold civil war will not be won in the course of a single administration; whether it will even be won by the side committed to the American way of life remains an open question. But Trump, more than any other leader on the national scene, has the qualities that may deliver such a victory. Has his first year back in office moved us closer to that goal?

"We, the American People" are, ostensibly, people not easily swayed by political scams. We don't live up to such reputation if, in fact we vote as we're told by political leaders or operatives. Given legislators/politicians/activists are bent on confiscating property (wealth) from some Americans and give such confiscated property (wealth) to other Americans, we might be susceptible to jerrymandering.

It Would Be “Our, the American People’s” mistake to think our political leaders are out to make life better for all Americans.
