

Based On Recurring Media Reports on runaway government budgets and increasing pressure on businesses to meet regulatory compliance, “We, the American People” are offered scant news on positive economic outlook. Examples include articles on Golden State homeowners trading houses for RV living, and Big Apple Mayor Zahor Mamdani hiring 200 lawyers and regulatory compliance staff.

“You don’t need a degree in political science to know what freedom is.”

~ Andrew Wiegand

Golden State RV Living Option is said to worsen Golden State housing crisis. Big Apple’s Mayor Mamdani adding staff will add to city budget woes. Trusty AI sources put Big Apple HR cost at $4.9B-$12B, making each of some 306,248 people on Big Apple payroll being a cost of somewhere between $16,000 - $39,184. Figures likely low, given AI puts national average at 1.25 – 4 times employee salary.

“Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.”
~ Thomas Jefferson

Regardless How Government's Role in “Our, the American People’s’ society is viewed by individuals, cost of government is const of government. All government costs are, ultimately, borne by taxpayers. With regulatory fees and licensing costs covering some costs. It is no wonder government officials look to tax increases as means of meeting budget demands. Taxpayers can pay only so much in taxes.

“As our rights fade out, we accept perpetual war for perpetual peace, the two parties fuse into one, and the government becomes more powerful than at any time in our history.”
~ Kevin Maley

There Is An Implied Concept inherent in governments demanding their budgetary requirements must be met, however ordinary citizens are burdened to meet government budget costs. It is incumbent on “Us, the American People” (on anyone) to know we can not have those things in life we can not afford. It is myopic for government to declare their existence superior to ordinary people’s. And oppressive.

Originally, this day was to honor one man: the Father of our country, President George Washington. In my lifetime there have been a few presidents who I would list as unworthy of “President’s Day.” Today we will bid Happy President’s Day to former and current Presidents, but in reality... this day belongs to our First President, George Washington.

George Washington was born February 22, 1732, and passed away December 14, 1799.

A fact I was not aware of until today, for 20 years George Washington celebrated 2 birthdays. My grandkids would love that!!

George Washington's birthday shifted from February 11, 1731, to February 22, 1732, due to the British Empire's adoption of the Gregorian calendar in 1752, which replaced the Julian calendar. Although born on the earlier date, he recognized the change to the "New Style" date, making him 20 on Feb. 22, 1752.

The Julian calendar was 11 days behind the solar year by 1752. So, in the year of 1752, Britain and its colonies skipped 11 days—September 2 was followed by September 14—to align with the Gregorian calendar. It was then that Washington's birth date changed. Washington was born on February 11, 1731 (Julian), which became February 22, 1732 (Gregorian). Washington noted both dates throughout his life, but he adapted to the new calendar, ultimately celebrating the February 22 date. While sometimes incorrectly attributed to his birth year, the shift in his birthday was entirely due to this calendar reform, not a change in his actual birth year from 1731 to 1732.

Today is a holiday which is capitalized on by retailers. Federal and state employees, banks, courthouses, post offices and the lawyer's offices in my town are all closed. Working and producing Americans barely know it's a holiday... My studio is across the street from a bank, and it is humorous to see some old farmer pull up and try to do some bank business. Perhaps it's humorous to a point, but that's the man feeding Americans; working and producing.

I read today that President Washington always worked on his birthday... so America takes the day off to celebrate the man who never took a day off but kept working for a better America. He truly was the Father of our nation watching over us, as a good father does.

President George Washington was not affiliated with any political party; he was the true American. In fact, he warned us against the dangers of strong political parties.

“However [political parties] may now and then answer popular ends, they are likely in the course of time and things, to become potent engines, by which cunning, ambitious, and unprincipled men will be enabled to subvert the power of the people and to usurp for themselves the reins of government, destroying afterwards the very engines which have lifted them to unjust dominion.” George Washington in his farewell address.

In his farewell address he also states: “The basis of our political systems is the right of the people to make and to alter their constitutions of government. But the constitution which at any time exists till changed by an explicit and authentic act of the whole people is sacredly obligatory upon all.”

George Washington left office on March 4, 1797, after serving two terms as the first President of the United States. He voluntarily stepped down, setting a major precedent for the peaceful, voluntary transfer of power and a two-term limit, rather than seeking to serve for life.

Today we have politicians who refuse to take leave and go home. Originally Congress was given a recess to go home to their “real” jobs. Corruption and greed have brought us to career politicians who no longer represent the people but instead are protecting their careers. It is my opinion they should no longer receive that time off, since politics is their job, and perhaps their “vacation time” should be what they use for campaigning. We have representatives and senators who have died of old age while supposedly serving the people. Mitch McConnell can barely talk or walk... yet he still serves. (He is not seeking reelection... finally.) Diane Feinstein couldn’t complete a sentence, Texas Republican Representative Kay Granger, 81, was reported to be living in a Fort Worth, Texas, assisted-living and retirement facility in late 2024. Maxine Waters is in her 80s (claiming President Trump is too old). Their greed for power and wealth has left a bad taste in the mouths of most Americans. Unprincipled men!

Honorable is not how they are perceived. The Democrat Party installed Joe Biden as president knowing he was completely incapable of the job; they knew he was “sick.”

Upon hearing that George Washington planned to resign his commission and return to private life after the Revolutionary War, King George III of England reportedly said, “If he does that, he will be the greatest man in the world.” The remark was made to painter

Benjamin West, reflecting amazement that a leader with loyal troops would relinquish power.

In my lifetime and in my opinion any president who works to remove Liberty from the People, who decides he is the one to “fundamentally change America,” is not worthy of the title President and does not deserve a President’s Day. Jimmy Carter was a horrible president... my memory of him was he was against abortion until his party said NO, we are FOR abortion. The economy was awful, and there was the thing in Iran, for which we still suffer today. Bill Clinton brought shame to the office with his numerous affairs and his lies. Barack Hussein Obama basically hated the Constitutional Republic and worked to “fundamentally change” America. He was a divider, not a uniter. His lies about healthcare (If you like your doctor, you can keep your doctor.) still haunt America today. He took it upon himself to send pallets of cash to Iran and encouraged their building of nuclear weapons. He knew those weapons were meant to destroy America, YET he encouraged it. Joe Biden was an embarrassment to this nation; other national leaders had to help guide him on and off stages and bring him back from wandering away. He will be known for the Afghanistan debacle, and he’ll forever be known as the autopen president.

None of them are worthy of a day to be remembered, they are worthy of a day in court and Americans are worthy for justice to be served.

My favorite picture of George Washington is when he is kneeling in prayer. Oh, that we would see humility in today’s elected officials. It meant so much to me to see men of faith laying hands on President Trump. I would also like to see him on his knees exhibiting his faith.

We the People need to be on our knees praying for these men and women, who perhaps are less than honorable, but still “need” our prayers. They need to know the God of George Washington.

TRUMP MAMDANI MEETING TODAY 3PM ET

“Our, the American People's” Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS), media report, has ruled President Donald J. Trump may not use tariffs (trade taxes) as he sees fit without Congressional OK. It is arguable SCOTUS, ruling against President Donald J. on tariff (trade tax) authority, ruled against those Americans who voted President Donald J. in office. Twice. Legally, SCOTUS has final say.

It Would Be Smart For “Us, the American People” to give some purposeful consideration to SCOTUS (courts, at large) having final (legal) say when final say is contrary to public sentiment. SCOTUS Justices could, at any given time, based on SCOTUS interpretation (driven by Justices’ PAVB) decide Congress does not have power to counter presidential tariff (trade tax) action, or to declare war.

With Any Luck, Congress Would, in collaboration with America’s Executive Branch, recognize when America’s security is at risk of hostile nation aggression, and blow aggressors to smithereens without hesitation – or remorse. Subordinating sovereign citizenry public sentiment to SCOTUS (court) opinion is another matter. Freedom under Liberty would not long prevail in overruling public sentiment.
