"Wherever politics intrudes upon economic life, political success is readily attained by saying what people like to hear rather than what is demonstrably true. Instead of safeguarding truth and honesty, the state then tends to become a major source of insincerity and mendacity."

~ Hans Sennholz

"Our, the American People's" President Donald J. Trump is well-known for his brashness. They who step up and take him on can expect he will show no mercy when people try backing him in a corner. He pummels his way out. Media report President Donald J. came down hard on a press conference reporter who read a question from notes, rather than speaking directly to President Donald J. Protocol.

"The one thing that doesn't abide by majority rule is a person's conscience."

~ Harper Lee

Asked Why Press Conference Reporter read a question from notes, reporter, answered succinctly, whereafter President Donald J. further needled reporter about reading. President Donald J. went on to voice an apparent rebuke of reporter's network. President Donald J. is not predisposed to speak like a support group facilitator. His remarks are icy cold, easily ignited into verbal infernos. Eating time.

"I freed thousands of slaves. I could have freed thousands more if they had known they were slaves."

~ Harriet Tubman

"We, the American People," if we think President Donald J. is easily intimidated by other people with similar dialectic styles, would be well-advised to come to grips with one, very important thing. President Donald J. is not impressed by whoever happens to be standing by. President J. is out to win. He wastes no effort on any other thing. Apart from letting anyone and everyone know his expectations.

"A welfare state is frightened of every poor person who tries to get in and every rich person who tries to get out."

~ Harry Browne

Those Of “Us, the American People” not experienced in negotiating, could be easily cowed by one Donald J. Trump. It those of us who might come eyeball-to-eyeball with Donald J. would be smart to know our subject in exhausting, excruciating, inscrutable detail. We can, then, listen quietly whilst Donald J. might rant, ask, “Have you more? If not, let me show you errors of your emphatic argument.”

"The government is good at one thing. It knows how to break your legs, and then hand you a crutch and say, 'See if it weren't for the government, you wouldn't be able to walk'."

~ Harry Browne

People Intending To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to set limits on interest earned or charged in any financial transaction between private citizens or between private citizens and any financial institution or company not backed by public money. They uphold citizen sovereignty and self-government.

"We suffer most when the White House busts with ideas."

~ H.L. Mencken

Omaha's Financial Oracle, Warren Buffett, has some media-reported advice for all of "Us, the American People" who would like to be like Buffett. Rich. Buffett's Berkshire Hathaway, Inc. is a $1T business. Could grubstake more than a few start-ups. Buffett said, for one thing, get yourself a sound financial advisor to keep your portfolio on track and not open to whimsical good-looking deals.

"The kind of man who wants the government to adopt and enforce his ideas is always the kind of man whose ideas are idiotic."

~ H.L. Mencken

When Looking For A Good Financial advisor, or other people to be part of your effort, Buffett is not so big on credentials as talent. For Mr. Buffett's several trillion cents, it's a matter of nature coming out on top of nurture. Mr. Buffett thrust is very big on save, save, save, invest, invest, invest. For it is on capital capitalism doth depend. Spent money never bears interest for spenders, only less equity.

"Their purpose, in brief, is to make docile and patriotic citizens, to pile up majorities, and to make John Doe and Richard Doe as nearly alike, in their everyday reactions and ways of thinking, as possible."

~ H.L. Mencken

"We, the American People" would not be too far afield of sound thinking to recognize all wealth is generated, directly or indirectly, from sales. Absent sales, there is no income to invest or save. Given consumers, ultimately, dictate where sales will happen, and how much money will change hands, it follows smart investing goes where money grows. Money grows where consumers go to consume.

"Numerical might does not constitute right, no more than a lynch mob can justify its act because a majority participated."

~ H.L. Richardson

"Our, the American People's" odds of attaining financial security are affected by government policy. Whether those odds should be affected is a matter of endless debate. Based on Warren Buffett's down-to-earth financial philosophy, it would make sense to be wary of investments where change in government policy can have unintended impact on portfolios. Government seeks lawful compliance.

"The state spends much time and effort persuading the public that it is not really what it is and that the consequences of its actions are positive rather than negative."

Reporter Ashley Capoot

ashley.capoot@nbcuni.com

Dear Councilwoman Farias, Assemblywoman Reyes, Sen. Fernandez, Rep. Ocasio-Cortez, reporter Capoot, journalists, lawyers, and Advocates of Honest Judiciaries,⁺

1. This is a proposal for you all to join forces to amplify and make long-term the strong and positive impact on public opinion that other women are having, to wit, NYPD Commissioner Jessica Tisch and Karen Friedman Agnifilo, Esq., the attorney for Luigi Mangione.

a. This proposal, the letters to Comm. Tisch and Att. Friedman Agnifilo, an excerpt of the case filed in the U.S. District Court SDNY, supporting material, and the humorous skit "The Four Chicks and Trump", can be downloaded through the link above.

2. We can bring to the attention of your constituents, the audience at your activities, and the media two related cases that provoke the emotion that most effectively drives the public, and especially voters, to protest vehemently and take sustained action: outrage at abuse of power that harms them and those they care about.

3. These two cases deal with police corruption and denials of healthcare insurance claims:

a. Indictments are fabricated on false and insufficient evidence by prosecutors, police officers, and detectives, and covered up by grand jury and NYC and NYS administrative judges, and each of the judges of the NYS Court of Appeals. Thousands of people have fallen victim to the coordinated abuse of power of these public officers, and have been deprived of their liberty or evicted, fired, and ruined financially and reputationally by having a criminal record.

b. Medicare seeks to keep in its network, and increase the number of, its thousands of medical services and equipment providers. They coordinate their denial of claims of many of its 67 million insureds, who are old, disabled, sick, and cannot afford lawyers though confronting five levels of administrative and judicial appeals. If capable at all, the insureds appeal pro se, but ignorant of the law, they have little to no chance of prevailing over the lawyers of Medicare and its providers. Their coordinated abuse of power is exposed in a case filed in SDNY¹.

4. Indeed, officers in those cases engage in patterns of abusive conduct that reveal an institutionalized modus operandi. Their conduct can be exposed as so coordinated by them, and for their benefit, as a class as to make them part of racketeering and corrupt organizations.

5. That will distinguish our joint effort from a mere sensational case of officers going rogue individually.

6. Such exposure will exacerbate public outrage.

7. That will motivate ever more people to participate in what we will promote to media outlets and universities: unprecedented citizens hearings. To be held at their stations and auditoriums, these hearings will enable people to tell in person or online to the national public their story² of the abuse by those organizations that they have suffered or witnessed.

8. Only an informed and outraged We the People can subject those who wield entrenched political and financial power to transparency, accountability, and liability.

a. The effort to inform the public is pursued through my website, Judicial Discipline Reform, at <http://www.Judicial-Discipline-Reform.org>. There I post some of my articles, the product of my professional law research and writing, and strategic thinking. They have attracted so many webvisitors and elicited such a positive response from them that as of 21 February 2025, the number of visitors who had become subscribers was 53,758.

b. Those articles are supported by my three-volume^{*†}♣ study of judges and their judiciaries, titled and downloadable thus:

Exposing Judges' Unaccountability and Consequent Riskless Abuse of Power:
Pioneering the news and publishing field of judicial unaccountability reporting ^{*†}♣

9. I offer to make for you and your guests a presentation in person or via video conference on leading a movement that can have transformative impact on our system of governance and turn you into Champions of the People.

10. See my complaint-appeal, which is filed and ready for class action:

"It is impossible to imagine the universe run by a wise, just and omnipotent God, but it is quite easy to imagine it run by a board of gods. If such a board actually exists it operates precisely like the board of a corporation that is losing money."

~ H.L. Mencken

"Our, the American People's" President Donald J. Trump's romance with America's courts is not losing steam. Media reports a GOP Congressional legislator warned President Donald J. to not ignore court rulings, rather, stick with appeals system. President Donald J. is on record saying he'll obey court findings. Real trouble arises when appellate system runs its course, and outcomes are not favorable.

"A national political campaign is better than the best circus ever heard of, with a mass baptism and a couple of hangings thrown in."

~ H.L. Mencken

"We, the American People" leave justice in court hands. As such, judges, including upreme Court of the United State (SCOTUS) Justices end up defining justice based on magistrate personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB). Not as though courts seek dictatorial power; there are no irrefutable standards courts can look to when deliberating. Intimately, a sovereign citizenry PAVB prevails.

"The trouble with fighting for human freedom is that one spends most of one's time defending scoundrels. For it is against scoundrels that oppressive laws are first aimed, and oppression must be stopped at the beginning if it is to be stopped at all."

~ H.L. Mencken

America's Triumvirate Government Is, in theory a governmental system whereby no one government branch has power over any other branch. Courts, e.g. SCOTUS, though, have final say. Had courts not final say, court opinions could be flatly ignored with moot import. President Donald J, Trump, for example, has been told he may not fire a federal official, pending further review. Court calls shots.

"Government is actually the worst failure of civilized man. There has never been a really good one, and even those that are most tolerable are arbitrary, cruel, grasping, and unintelligent."

~ H.L. Mencken

It Might Not Be a Happy Place for “Us, the American People” to be in as a sovereign citizenry having final say over government matters. Legislators, judges, and chief executives all, essentially, operating on their PAVB, it is up to us to referee. If we choose to abdicate our referee authority, government has no one to whom it must answer. Abandoning our referee status is tantamount to welcoming despotism.

"The most dangerous man to any government is the man who is able to think things out for himself, without regard to the prevailing superstitions and taboos. Almost inevitably he comes to the conclusion that the government he lives under is dishonest, insane, and intolerable."

~ H.L. Mencken

People Determined To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to enact legislation or regulations requiring any private business to accept collective bargaining organizations. They stand by free markets and limited government.

"The aim of public education is not to spread enlightenment at all, it is simply to reduce as many individuals as possible to the same safe level, to breed and train a standardized citizenry, to put down dissent and originality."
