Speculation Over “Our, the American People’s” President Donald J. Trump make a third-term bid keeps popping up in media articles. A recent article covers similar ground strewn with analyses on how it is no person may serve more than two presidential terms. At least not by common Constitutional interpretation. America’s Constitutions are interpreted by anyone wanting interpretive authority.

There Is No Reason Why Someone could not be elected to America's presidential office for as many terms as America's voters votes a someone in. There are untold reasons why someone voted in office for more than two terms would meet with all manner of opposition from varied opposition camps. How a person more than twice elected to presidential office could be denied office assumption is provoking.

against a third term for such a president. And, it would be no surprise people liking a president would like such president to serve indefinitely. Our ostensible charter as a free, self-governing, sovereign citizenry empowers us to elect whoever we wish whenever we wish, for as often, as long as we wish.

“We are not afraid to entrust the American people with unpleasant facts, foreign ideas, alien philosophies, and competitive values. For a nation that is afraid to let its people judge the truth and falsehood in an open market is a nation that is afraid of its people.”

It Is Inarguable "We, the American People" are not self-governing if we are not able to choose (and elect) our representatives on our terms, not on terms on our commonwealth, federal (U.S./National), and state Constitutions. Takes nothing away from America's Constitutions. Takes irrecoverable freedom away from sovereign citizenries to be denied representative choice. Constitutions are concepts.

"We, the American People" are, as a comparatively young and developing nation, much like teenagers. We're just not mature enough to make wise political decisions, because we're young and angry, and it's why we didn't know any better than to vote for Donald J. Trump. Twice. A media article reports social media went berserk after a Congressional Senate legislator said national naiveté seated Trump.

"Throughout history, the attachment of even the humblest people to their freedom...has come as an unpleasant shock to condescending ideologues."

~ Paul Johnson

It Wouldn't Be A Stretch To Conclude some of "Our, the American People's" lawmakers see themselves smarter than ordinary people when making political decisions. Legislative office candidates don't seek office because ordinary people are smart enough to make smart political decisions. Not for a second. Legislators are after lawful power to force everyone to meet legislators' behavioral standards.

"The study of history is a powerful antidote to contemporary arrogance."

Democrats, please calm down. Musk can't become President. Unless...he can find the guy who made Obama's birth certificate.

Personal Attitudes, Values, And Beliefs (PAVB), if not outright prejudice, urge “Us, the American People” to adopt viewpoints not everyone finds aggregable or suitable. Legislators are hardly free from acting on their PAVB when writing laws. Particularly so, because America’s commonwealth, federal (U. S./National), and state Constitutions are open to legislative-judicial-executive interpretation.

"Yet just a quick glance behind the curtain reveals that the age-old tactics of manipulation of fear and manufactured consensus are still being used to force humanity into accepting the terms of its own imprisonment and in turn policing others within the prison without bars."

Societal Tolerance Based On Liberty does not require lawful compliance. Laws, by their very nature, cause differing PAVB to be at odds. Add commitment to dissimilar Faiths, there are upheavals waiting to erupt. Laws do little more than create resentment when articulated to favor some Faiths over others. Worse, adherence to law necessarily means those of Faiths not favored by law are sure to be peeved.

In a Democracy, the majority rules. If the majority decided they wanted your bike, they could take it.

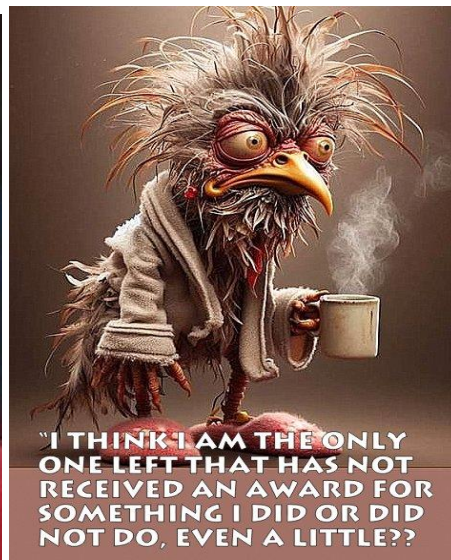

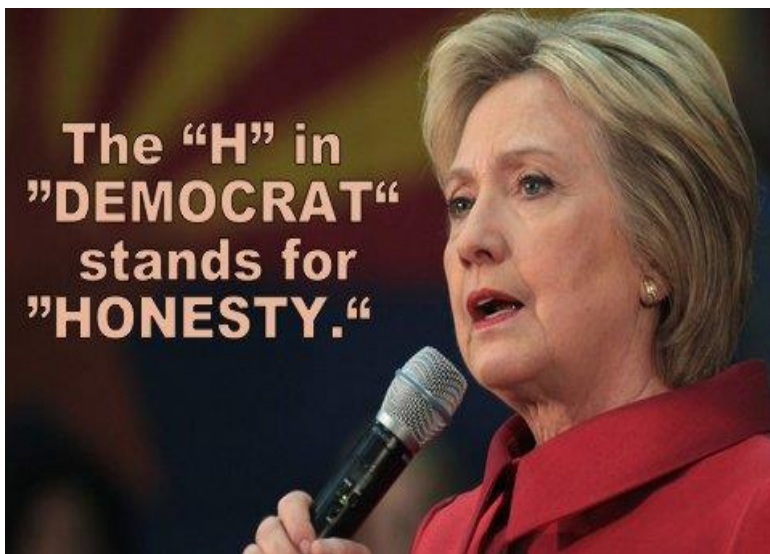

In a Republic, your bike is your property and you do not owe it to anyone. It cannot be taken against your will, by law.

America is a Constitutional Republic.

Therefore, the Constitution is the law by which we are supposed to be protected.

In a Republic, the individual is protected FROM the majority, by Constitutional law.

A Constitutional Republic is what we were given. It is up to us to keep it.

*“Consent of the Governed” is a line from the Declaration of Independence, and it must be taken seriously by all those we elected, and those they appointed, and first and foremost by We the People!

Last week I made the statement that I no longer believed that the two parties have the same goal. Securing Liberty is obviously not the goal of the democrat-curmudgeon party... for sure... of the Democrat Party; and neither is upholding the Constitution of the United States of America.

Mark Levin addressed this same topic on Sunday evening's show, “Life Liberty and Levin.”

I want to elaborate on the points he made, and I will take them a bit farther, with my own opinion, as I believe We the People have an obligation to our country. We need to put an end to the “tomfoolery” that is being performed in the name of “politics.”

I don't particularly like using the word conservative for these comparisons, but for now let's use it.

Mark said he'd been thinking and wondering just what the difference between the LEFT and the conservatives is. What makes the LEFT behave as they do? (I am paraphrasing what I understood from Mark's opening)

We the People (conservatives) believe The Constitution (in its origin) is The Law of our land.

We believe, as conservatives, that the Origin is transcendent, superior, divine; laws and rights are inherently from God and not from man or government.

The LEFT believe that man, not God, makes the laws, that man lays down the law and man will determine what is just.

Conservatives believe the Origin of law is bigger than man, it is our divine Creator. The Declaration of Independence, YES, I know it is not the Constitution but it is the originality of our declared Independence to the world.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.--That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed,

Upgrade to paid

The LEFT believe laws empower government; the more laws, rules, and regulations that they can lay down, the more power government holds. To the LEFT government is their god.

The LEFT believe in the perfectibility of government. The phrase, "Our Constitution is a living breathing document," is evidence of that. They believe rights come from government; your rights are dictated by their laws. In other words, your rights are only privileges decided by the laws.

We believe the Constitution undergirds and secures our rights and that our Rights are divinely from God, “inalienable rights which are endowed by our creator.”

The LEFT believe government gives us rights (privileges that can be altered with the next law, regulation etc.)

We, the Consent of the Governed, believe the People are the government: this is termed a Constitutional Republic.

They believe in government empowered, for the LEFT, the bigger the government the better the government. This might be true if you love government, however, such a form of government is not conducive to Liberty.

We believe in the separation of powers, the LEFT believe in one party rule: the accumulation of powers. Without the separation of power, our Constitutional Republic becomes a tyrannical form of government.

“The accumulation of all powers, legislative, executive and judiciary, in the same hands, whether of one, a few, or many, and whether hereditary, self-appointed, or elective, may justly be pronounced the very definition of tyranny.” James Madison, Federalist 47

When considering the differences of the LEFT and the Constitutional conservatives, I found it interesting to read and understand that these concerns are not new. Differences have always been a contention within our state of affairs, and those differences have long been capable of wreaking havoc over our Constitutional Republic.

President Lincoln stated:

“We all declare for Liberty, but in using the same word we do not all mean the same thing. With some the word Liberty may mean for each man to do as he pleases with himself, and the product of his labor; while with others the same word may mean for some men to do as they please with other men, and the product of other men’s labor. Here are two, not only different, but incompatible things, called by the same name, Liberty. And it follows that each of the things is, by the respective parties, called by two different and incompatible names –

Liberty and tyranny.”

But the People have spoken!

We overwhelmingly elected President Trump in November. He made promises for which We the People concurred should be done. Drain the swamp, shrink the government, and restore our Constitutional Republic; Make America Great Again.

As President Trump is directing his team and administration to do the will of the people, that second party on the LEFT is using federal judges (appointed not elected bureaucrats) to stifle and detain President Trump's work.

Federal judges are not gods, and neither are the Supreme Court Justices DOGGONE IT! We the People need to order impeachments of these federal judges and perhaps a few Supreme Court Justices as well. We are not taking these measures because we disagree with them; these measures are because they are making decisions that are contrary to the Constitution. A district judge cannot Constitutionally usurp the power of the elected President of the United States of America! Recently the Supreme Court went along with this madness.

By Golly, We the People are their boss! They are not elected, and our elected officials need to toe the line. The line is the Constitution of the United States of America, and the line watchers are the Consent of the Governed.

We are not some other country ruled by kings, and dictators and prime ministers, we are the United States of America! We the People are the rulers of this land! They, every single one of them, from the elected to selected and appointed, work for us; and I'm ready to DOGE 'em all!

Erase 90% of the idiotic laws and regulations and we don't need all those 833 federal judges; they are not given authority under the Constitution anyway.

Congress! Do you realize, they have through the years of this nation, ruled themselves to be superior and at the same time delegated their constitutional authority to bureaucratic positions? Congress took it upon themselves to term limit the Executive branch (President) while allowing their own tenure to last forever! It was recently reported that a member of Congress (Representative Kay Granger Rep. from Texas) was actually in the nursing home; so who was placing her votes? Seems very similar to Joe Biden's Presidency, which now has been reported he used auto-signature. Were bureaucrats running the executive branch? I think it was obvious they were!

The people have spoken! November 5, 2024, we made it very clear that we want government downsized and Liberty upsized! It's time to start taking charge and living up to our Constitutional obligations.

Thomas Jefferson stated, “When once a Republic is corrupted, there is no possibility of remedying any of the growing evils but by removing the corruption and restoring its lost principles; every other correction is either useless or a new evil.”

The People have spoken, and We the People must stop the madness and...

"[G]overnment is distrustful of and disrespectful toward average Americans while being easily gulled by Americans with money, influence or fame."

~ P.J. O'Rourke

One Of "Our, the American People's" media telecast talk show hosts Has accused Congressional GOP legislators of ceding their power to stop President Donald J. Trump's tariff (trade tax) initiatives. Host in question points out GOP legislators have a plan in mind to keep legislators from voting on tariffs (trade taxes). Host noted Congressional Democrat legislators will try forcing a vote. Discredit opposition.

"Freedom is not empowerment. Empowerment is what the Serbs have in Bosnia. Anybody can grab a gun and be empowered. It's not entitlement. An entitlement is what people on welfare get, and how free are they? "

~ P.J. O'Rourke

"We, the American People" would be smart to keep in mind there is nothing to stop legislators from making it known how they would vote, were there to be a vote. Moreover, there is nothing to stop legislators from forming cabals of sorts and making their positions known to President Donald J. Trump and to America's at large. Were enough Americans to say so, President Donald J. would halt tariffs.

"Let Mr. Madison tell me when did liberty ever exist when the sword and the purse were given up from the people? Unless a miracle shall interpose, no nation ever did, nor ever can retain its liberty after the loss of the sword and the purse."

~ Patrick Henry

It Could Be Seen By “Us, the American People,” based on media host assertions, there is nothing to be done if Congressional legislators in majority standing do not decide to act. On virtually any item having to do with Congress. Mistaken idea. We, a sovereign citizenry, can fire every Congressional legislator by something known as recall. We hire legislators, we can fire legislators. And show hosts.

"According to the Tax Foundation, the average American worker works 127 days of the year just to pay his taxes."

~ Paul Craig Roberts

It Is A Misguided Notion To Think ordinary Americans are hostage to governmental positional authority. We are not. Should we figure legislators are abusing their lawful station, we can boot them out without =waiting for an election. All President Donald J. Trump's famous and infamous negotiating powers mean nothing, if we a sovereign citizenry, decide we're having none of it. None.

"The tax that was supposed to soak the rich has instead soaked America. The beneficiary of the income tax has not been the poor, but big government. The income tax has given us a government bureaucracy that outnumbers the manufacturing work force. "
