"Ultimately, after all, all regulations are observed and all taxes are paid at gunpoint. I believe those few who can't even see that have been short-sighted sheep...."

~ Rick Gaber

There Must Be A Rule Somewhere advising "Our, the American People's" Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS) Chief Justice to tell Americans how to act appropriately as regards America's jurisprudence system. SCOTUS Chief Justice John Roberts, reportedly, has done precisely so. Chief Justice Roberts is said to have said it's not appropriate to call for an anti-Trump judge to be impeached.

"What's interesting then is that every national government has some incentive to devalue [its currency] – to protect their own domestic economy and employment. Gold has no similar constituency for devaluation."

~ Rick Rule

Hard To Find Constitutional Restraint against “Us, the American People” expressing our will as regards most any government behavior. Self-government entails, amongst other, say, rights, a 1st Amendment right to speak our minds, whether government likes to hear our speech or not. There is no requirement for us to have any expertise regarding appropriateness, or, to have academic credentials.

"It is said, mostly by Libertarians, that ‘taxation is theft.’ Theft is too mild a word. Typically, a thief strikes only once, and doesn’t pretend that his robbery is legitimate. Taxation is actually slavery."

~ Rick Tompkins

“We, the American People” who choose to delve deeply into points of law might be clever to keep close our individual views on lawful impeachment, for no reason than not to appear inclined to speak before thinking or gaining information relevant to matters at hand. In any case, it is not for America’s SCOTUS, or, SCOTUS Chief Justices, to decide impeachment appropriateness. Last word ‘t is ours.

"The Bible tells us to be like God, and then on page after page it describes God as a mass murderer. This may be the single most important key to the political behavior of Western Civilization."

~ Robert Anton Wilson

Legislatures Legislate; Courts Adjudicate. Chief Executives might thumb their noses at both. Proactive sovereign citizenries in free societies have final say on virtually every government act. Were it not so, there would be nothing to stop legislative, executive, or judicial government branches to become tyrannical. Constitutions are powerless to prevent collaborative despotism. Citizens are not.

"Show me a movement that doesn't hate somebody and I will join it at once."

~ Robert Anton Wilson

People Intending To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to define or limit their 10th Amendment powers beyond Constitutional constraint. They exercise self-government to preserve their life, liberty, pursuit of happiness, and property.

"Spying on your neighbors is invasion of privacy, unless you work for the FBI; then it's National Security."

PI2025 #0315 – Be Smart To Recall

"To say that a bad government must be established for fear of anarchy is really saying that we should kill ourselves for fear of dying."

"[If Parliament] may take from me one shilling in the pound, what security have I for the other nineteen?"

~ Richard Henry Lee

"Our the American People's" Congressional Senate Minority leader, Senator Chuck Schumer, is losing his grip on his party's Congressional legislators. So, claims an internally distributed media tele-newspaper. Media piece in question goes into some detail as to how it is Senator Schumer is losing control of his fellow democrat party members. Could be he ain't supposed to control his party members.

"Christmas is a time when kids tell Santa what they want and adults pay for it. Deficits are when adults tell the government what they want and their kids pay for it."

~ Richard Lamm

"We, the American People," if we expect to have any clout as a sovereign citizenry, would be abject fools to permit any sort of organizational hierarchy in our government halls. We would be smart to recall any legislative representative who defers to likes of Congressional House Speaker, House minority whip, Senate Majority leader, or any government official for how they are to represent people.

"Washington is not America. It has become an alien city-state that rules America, and much of the rest of the world, in the way that Rome ruled the Roman Empire."

~ Richard Maybury

Elected Representatives Work For people who vote them into office. No one else, period. Legislative hierarchies have one purpose – to bring membership into line with leadership. Not how America is supposed to work. Americans are to have their individualism respected and upheld by America's government. Any attempt to have members toe leadership lines amounts to relegating representation.

"Far from failing in its intended task, our educational system is in fact succeeding magnificently, because its aim is to keep the American people thoughtless enough to go on supporting the system."

~ Richard Mitchell

Those Representing “Us, the American People” in America’s legislators have a first-order obligation to uphold and defend ideals held by those who seat them in office. Anything else would be window dressing efforts to bring legislators in line with how leadership views membership roles. Government works for Americans in America. Legislative representatives are elected to assure it remains so.

"The examined life is impossible if we cannot examine, order, classify, define, distinguish, always in minute particulars."

~ Richard Mitchell

People Prepared To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators - or other public officials within These United States of America, to interfere in health matters between private citizens and their physicians. They prohibit government from intruding on their privacy.

"Don't take things that don't belong to you."

PI2025 #0314 – Is Not Wrong, Ever

"Peace will come to earth when the people have more to do with each other and government less."

~ Richard Cobden

"[T]he tax code has been piling up, year after year, a symbol of everything gone wrong in America, of arrogant rulers and lost freedom, just waiting for us to pick the whole thing up and heave it away. It has to happen. Free people can put up with such laws only for so long."

~ Richard Armey

"Our, the American People's" President Donald J. Trump is so desperate to convince people he's living up to his campaign deportation promise, he's running afoul with courts and due process accountability. Not to mention transparency on who are departed and why they are departed. At least one well-known media figure claims it's how President Donald J. is operating - contempt for authority.

"To preserve liberty, it is essential that the whole body of the people always possess arms, and be taught alike, especially when young, how to use them."

~ Richard Henry Lee

Two Wrongs Don't Make A Right is a tantalizing notion calling for people to be careful when trying to correct situations. "We, the American People" who are on illegal immigrant/migrant/refugee (IIMR) deportation side could argue IIMR infringement on American's property is a flagrant violation of due process. Condemning, say, a property owner for forcibly removing IIMR squatters, could be wrong.

"Look not to the politicians; look to yourselves."

~ Richard Cobden

It Would Not Be Surprising for "Us, the American People" who are confronted with crime committed by IIMR people – by anyone – would resort to self-defense of one or other kind, law and order be damned. It's too late to wait for police or courts when someone is attacked and stands to be injured if they do not act. Self-defense might be as fundamental a right as a person can have – right or wrong.

"In a free society, standards of public morality can be measured only by whether physical coercion -- violence against persons or property -- occurs. There is no right not to be offended by words, actions or symbols."

~ Richard E. Sincere, Jr.

Some Folk Might Argue if someone is struck, they should turn their other cheek. They struck might offer an alternative – ‘I only have two cheeks’ - and nail assailant with immobilizing force. A person trained in, say martial arts, could be accused of using a lethal weapon by overcoming an attacker with superior skill. Might not be a bad idea for us to take a view trouncing aggression .

"In the hands of the state, compulsory public education becomes a tool for political control and manipulation -- a prime instrument for the thought police of the society."

~ Richard Eberling

People Serious About Living In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to give quarter to, offer sanctuary to, or negotiate with terrorists. They dismiss elected leaders who put them at risk.

"It must never be forgotten...that the liberties of the people are not so safe under the gracious manner of government as by the limitation of power."

"What you do speaks so loud that I cannot hear what you say."
~ Ralph Waldo Emerson

"Our, the American People's" federal Education Secretary, Linda McMahon's reckless Education Department's dismantling is without rhyme or reason, will cost taxpayers unnecessarily, and will hurt America's children, education-wise over time. So, is a considered doctoral and professorial opinion expressed by a media contributor. Writer says improve, don't do away with, Education Department.

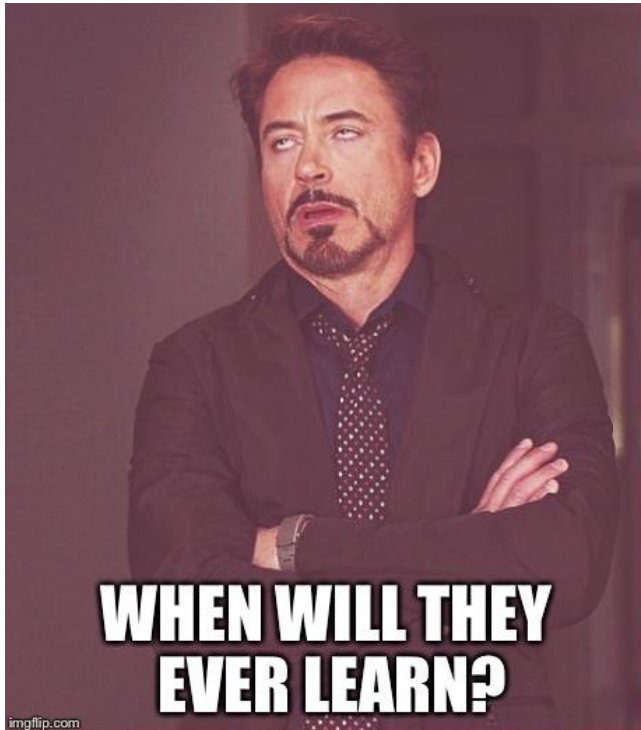

"A right is not what someone gives you; it's what no one can take from you."
~ Ramsey Clark

How It Is America Can Not do without a given government agency begs into question how America got along without a given government agency. "We, the American People," depending on how we might view a particular government function, can promote or demote virtually anything requiring taxpayers to surrender their property (wealth). All said and done, someone has to pay for government.

"The machinery of government sets and enforces the drastic penalties; the minorities are either intimidated into silence, or brought slowly around by a subtle process of persuasion which may seem to them really to be converting them."

~ Randolph Bourne

When Government, Whether It Be at federal level or town council level, makes policy. Government implements and enforces policy by coercive law. Choice is not part of law enforcement. They subject to enforcement might, depending on law's objective, have options of compliance. Law does not offer option to dismiss. Why a federal Education Department must have lawful authority is contentious.

"Monetary policy today is guided by little more than government fiat -- by the calculations, often mistaken economic theories, and whims of central bankers or, even worse, politicians."

~ Raymond J. Keating

Where Minority Age Children are concerned, arguing government must have educational authority over “Us, the American People” who are parents presumes government knows better how children must be educated. At education’s heart is a fundamental principle: education has a singular purpose, to control behavior. Government is an ideological entity, will control behavior to advance ideology.

"There are three schoolmasters for everybody that will employ them--the senses, intelligent companions, and books."

~ Henry Ward Beecher

People Determined To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to enter into defined-benefit contracts with collective bargaining units. They preclude government from eroding their assets through property confiscation.

"Government is saying to the average citizen every January 1: 'For the next five months you'll be working for us, for goals we shall determine. Call me a radical, but I think that comes dangerously close to being a form of indentured servitude.'"

~ *Richard Arme*y
