"...were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate for a moment to prefer the latter."

~ Thomas Jefferson

"Our, the American People's" Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS) will not be hearing a case on media freedom to publish information on public figures. Might not sit well with folks who value privacy. Might sit well with folks who figure people who are comparatively influential, socio-economically or politically, ought have their laundry aired in public forums to keep them honest.

"Were we directed from Washington when to sow and when to reap, we should soon want bread."

~ Thomas Jefferson

"We, the American People" could be distracted with perceived fairness or injustice of case in question. A more serious, or, at least as serious, aspect is SCOTUS denying to try case in question. So, looks as though litigants will have to contend with lower court decision. Irony is, SCOTUS refusal, in essence, is a tacit decision in favor of lower court pronouncement. SCOTUS adjudicating without adjudicating.

"That government is best which governs the least, because its people discipline themselves."

~ Thomas Jefferson

It Wouldn't Be Unreasonable for "Us, the American People" to put on our sovereign citizenry robes and take SCOTUS to task. If SCOTUS, as highest appellate court, can refuse to try cases, then no reason why any appellate court – any court – could not decline to hear any case. Gander, geese. Justice denied, no justice. Courts can decline to hear cases; litigants can petition SCOTUS; SCOTUS can deny.

"Yet the hour of emancipation is advancing....this enterprise is for the young; for those who can follow it up, and bear it through to its consummation."

~ Thomas Jefferson

America's Courts Are Not Hurting for cases. References accurate, SCOTUS gets petitioned around 10,000 times, yearly. Total annual U.S. court cases exceed 97M. People looking at courts for remedies to injuries can't figure on having their day in court before next weekend. Tall order for us to conduct our affairs in fair play. Fair play as perceived by players. Small wonder injustice can benefit from time.

"The boisterous sea of liberty is never without a wave."

~ Thomas Jefferson

People Intending To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to give quarter to, offer sanctuary to, or negotiate with terrorists. They dismiss elected leaders who put them at risk.

"A society that will trade a little liberty for a little order will lose both, and deserve neither."

What are the odds?

Lawful Power Struggle Between “Our, the American People’s” President Donald J. Trump and our federal judiciary is gaining notoriety. A member of our Congressional House of Representatives legislator band is moving to begin impeachment proceedings against a federal judge who’s standing against President Donald J. deportations. Media coverage has reported no predictable outcome so far.

"To compel a man to furnish contributions of money for the propagation of opinions which he disbelieves and abhors, is sinful and tyrannical."

~ Thomas Jefferson

“We, the American People” could be witnessing beginnings of a movement to restructure how America’s legislative-executive-judicial triangular government works. Objective would be to remove subjectivity in how each branch does its job under authority found in America’s federal (U.S./National) Constitution. And, to make it so without disrupting 10th Amendment commonwealth/state powers.

As Matters Stand For “Us, the American People,” legislative-executive-judicial functioning is, not as separate as might be thought by ordinary Americans, even governmentally scholarly academicians, or practitioners. There is no final legislative-executive-judicial authority, constitutionally speaking. All are supposed to check on each other to avert government despotism. Branch despotism creeps in.

"The issuing power should be taken from the banks and restored to the people to whom it properly belongs."

Legislators, Judges, chief Executives carry out their duties based on their personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB) because there are no unequivocal standards to be drawn on. No unbiased stone tablets. PAVB developed over deliberation.

"God forbid we should ever be twenty years without such a rebellion."

~ Thomas Jefferson

President Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address has endured time's test. Hard to say if President Donald J. Trump's MAGA/Musk/Vance initiatives will last similarly. Never know if America's South will rise again. And, if it should, every likelihood a federal judge, acting on good intent, will strike it down. Good intent. Beholder's eyes. Federal Education Department on chopping block by good intent.

"And what country can preserve its liberties, if its rulers are not warned from time to time, that this people preserve the spirit of resistance?"

~ Thomas Jefferson

"Our, the American People's" American Federation of Teachers (AFT) is of a mind, reportedly, America's Federal Education Department (FedEdDep) ought not be dismantled, rather, improved. AFT president allowed FedEdDep had not done a good job in years prior to President Donald J. Trump taking office. AFT president, though, expressed concern disbanding FeDEdDEP could be harmful.

"May [the Declaration of Independence] be to the world, what I believe it will be (to some parts sooner, to others later, but finally to all), the signal of arousing men to burst the chains under which monkish ignorance and superstition had persuaded them to bind themselves, and to assume the blessings and security of self-government."

~ Thomas Jefferson

AFT President Worries Eliminating FedEdDep would make it harder for some American students, namely those in disadvantaged circumstances. President Donald J. Trump's stated goals in breaking up FedEdDep include America's commonwealth and states having more direct control over student affairs, with attendant authority to apply resources FedEdDep would have formerly administered.

"The price of freedom is eternal vigilance."

~ Thomas Jefferson

"We, the American People." If We know Anything about organizational lethargy know there are pass-through costs whenever organizational layers increase. Having more localized, direct control, in theory, at least, saves time and managerial expense. Monies formerly gone to FedEdDep budgets could be applied directly to commonwealth/state/local needs. No reason why there must be federal oversight.

"I have no fear that the result of our experiment will be that men may be trusted to govern themselves without a master."

~ Thomas Jefferson

People Ekecting To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to infringe upon Americans’ 1st Amendment rights or other Bill-of-Rights protections; nor do they allow blame for another person’s behavior to be ascribed to their freedom to exercise their rights. They retain their heritage of self-government.

"We must make our election between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude."

"Rightful liberty is unobstructed action according to our will within limits drawn around us by the equal rights of others. I do not add 'within the limits of the law,' because law is often but the tyrant's will, and always so when it violates the rights of the individual."

~ Thomas Jefferson

"Our, the American Peoples" three, co-equal, branch governmental system leaves reality of government decisions murky, when considered in terms of who has power over whom. Add to this basic concept some 700 federal judges who, ostensibly, are to assure equal justice under law, it's no wonder there are never-ending, never-finally-decided cases of who gets final say over public matters.

"What a stupendous, what an incomprehensible machine is man! "

~ Thomas Jefferson

On-Going Flurry Of Debate over presidential-versus-judicial authority on deportation is an example how who in government has power over government functioning amounts to who's contesting and who's adjudicating. "We, the American People," as a sovereign citizenry looking for – if, in fact, we are – impartial legislative-executive-judicial government behavior have slim to no chance finding it.

"If a nation expects to be ignorant and free, in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be."

~ Thomas Jefferson

It Would Be Unduly Optimistic for “Us, the American People” to expect predictability from our three-branch government system when demarcation lines of authority are blurred by challenges to a given branch authority to carry out Constitutionally-assigned responsibility, if such authority can be negated by another branch. Add to this on order of 700 federal judges, no computer can figure who’s in charge.

"The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants. It is its natural manure."

~ Thomas Jefferson

Law, When Traced To Recorded Origin, is established by people who apply their personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB) when articulating law. America's commonwealth, federal (U.S./National), and state Constitutions task legislators with making laws to uphold Constitutionality. Society ends up with laws rooted in legislator PAVB, interpreted by judicial PAVB, enforced under executive PAVB.

"Why suspend the habeas corpus in insurrections and rebellions? Examine the history of England. See how few of the cases of the suspension of the habeas corpus law have been worthy of that suspension."

~ Thomas Jefferson

People Determined To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to enter into defined-benefit contracts with collective bargaining units. They forbid government from eroding their property rights.

"I think we have more machinery of government than is necessary, too many parasites living on the labor of the industrious."
