

“You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.”
~ Abraham Lincoln

“We, the American People” would be smart to consider legislative, government executive, and judicial candidates as intent on optimizing their chances for getting elected and reelected as often as they can. Getting elected means getting voters to check those ballot boxes. Understandable ‘millions’ of lawbreakers cleared to be voters would vote for those officials who made law-breaking acceptable.

“The more laws and restrictions there are, the poorer the people become.”
~ Lao Tsu

AI Sources Accurate And Not misinformation, disinformation, distraction, or fake distortion of truth, some 12 million people came to America through Ellis Island under America’s standing immigration laws. 12 million. It would be smart for “Us, the American People” to tell America’s legislators, government executives, and judges there is no reason to fix unbroken immigration laws. Stay course.

“When all government, in little as in great things, shall be drawn to Washington as the Center of all power, it will render powerless the checks provided of one government on another and will become as venal and oppressive as the government from which we separated.”

~ Thomas Jefferson

Immigration Is Enough A Challenge without allowing unrestricted entry to unlimited numbers of people not prepared to support themselves by economic integration. There is no compelling evidence any country lacks resources to support its population. Suppressive, oppressive government is another matter. Eradicating corruption in one’s homeland ought be at least as desirable as fleeing elsewhere.

Theoretically Speaking, Limited Government is no more strenuous than by Constitutional hypothesis. No more arduous than Ramses in The Ten Commandments proclaiming, “So let it be written, so let it be done.” For “Us, the American People” attaining limited government through citizen sovereignty and self-government means overcoming ambitions prevalent in attaining and holding lawful authority.

“The only proper purpose of a government is to protect man’s rights, which means: to protect him from physical violence.”

~ Ayn Rand

Constitutional Hypothesis Limited Government is more than a little removed from actual limited government in practice. Legislators, government executives (especially chief executives), and judges carry out their jobs by virtue of their personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB). Consequently, Constitutionally limited government becomes an amalgamation of officialdom-applied PAVB.

“When they kept you out it was because you were black; when they let you in, it is because you are black. That’s progress?”

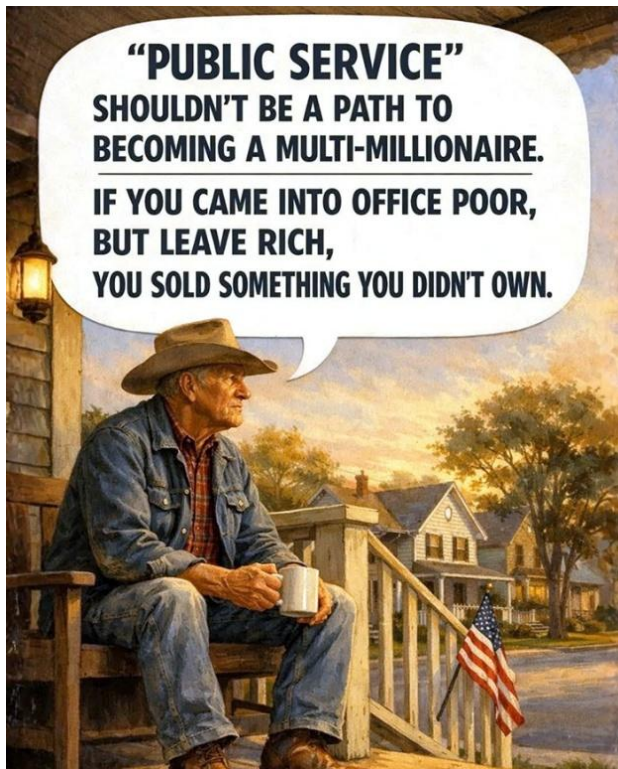

~ Marilyn French

Categorical Limited Government, As In Constitutionally hypothesized limited government, is hampered when elections deliver to “Us, the American People” Congress and/or commonwealth/state legislatures, executive administrations, and judiciary branches of like political party membership. Nothing, Constitutional proviso or else, can keep political majorities from ruining limited government.

“No government ever voluntarily reduces itself in size. Government programs, once launched, never disappear.”

~ Ronald Reagan

“The state creates nothing. The state only destroys wealth and steals it from others to distribute it among friends.”

— Javier Milei

If Limited Government Is To Prevail in free societies made up of sovereign citizenries, such limited government will have to be infused by ordinary people who reject or accede laws introduced by either majority-biased or mixed legislative/executive/judicial political diversity. Political majorities can not withstand tidal force of a sovereign citizenry galvanized to undermine a politically biased majority.

How to Confuse, Remove and Destroy a Republic Form of Government

We must get involved and be the “public” within the Republic...

What sets America apart from other countries and nations? Or, what USED to set us apart...

At the risk of beating a dead horse, I want to once again remind Americans, this nation was not established as a democracy form of government – at least not a pure democracy. A Constitutional Republic was or is our Foundation. In a Constitutional Republic (representative Republic) the people have a voice and there is a respect for the rights of individuals and their voices; that is called the First Amendment!

As our Founding Fathers warned us regarding the dangers and vulnerabilities of a democracy form of government, so have we fallen.

John Adams: Remember Democracy never lasts long. It soon wastes exhausts and murders itself. There never was a Democracy Yet, that did not commit suicide. It is in vain to Say that Democracy is less vain, less proud, less selfish, less ambitious or less avaricious than Aristocracy or Monarchy.

Thomas Jefferson - Jefferson feared that it would only be a matter of time before the American system of government degenerated into a form of “elective despotism” (1785)

Presidents, Kings, Tyrants, & Despots: “Mankind soon learn to make interested uses of every right and power which they possess or may assume. The public money and public liberty, intended to have been deposited with three branches of magistracy, but found inadvertently to be in the hands of one only, will soon be discovered to be sources of wealth and dominion to those who hold them... They [the assembly] should look forward to a time, and that not a distant one, when a corruption in this, as in the country from which we derive our origin, will have seized the heads of government, and be spread by them through the body of the people; when they will purchase the voices of the people, and make them pay the price. Human nature is the same on every side of the Atlantic and will be alike influenced by the same causes. The time to guard against corruption and tyranny is before they shall have gotten hold of us. It is better to keep the wolf out of the fold, than to trust to drawing his teeth and talons after he shall have entered.”

OMGosh, we've become the "Red Coats" who did the bidding of "the king;" bullying, taxing and abusing our ancestors, the American Colonists.

"Our real disease is DEMOCRACY!" Alexander Hamilton

Democracy is a word that is floated around like a beach ball in the political wind...

Truth is, America was established as a Constitutional Republic. The great experiment was not a democracy form of government, for our Founding Fathers knew that was doomed from the "get-go." The Constitutional Republic form of government is that great experiment that has long been discussed. "A Republic, if you can keep it," were the words from Benjamin Franklin.

As one founding father warned, a democracy will kill itself eventually. Of course it is the greed of mankind; those who somehow landed in places of government leadership and began bargaining with lobbyists and using American tax dollars to "cut their deals."

I recently read a list from the website, "Freedom House." The list was titled, "How To Kill Democracy," and was written by Amy Slipowitz, Jessica White and Yana Gorokhavskaia. Their list went into detail under each category but I'm only going to share the topic title of each; I think you'll understand the point of it all. If we retitle that, "How to Kill a Representative Republic," the list becomes more precise.

HOW TO KILL DEMOCRACY

Government and the party

Repress the people – strategy - repression

Exploit the people

Cripple political opposition, without annihilating

Capture societal institutions, academy, entertainment...

Dominate all branches of government

Create an electoral system that gives an illusion of democracy – create a coup majoritarianism (authoritarianism)

Dominate the media (the media and the party become the same) the State and monopoly party control the media

Control the security forces

Control key elements of the economy

Rewrite history of the country – to serve the purpose of the party and its agenda, the party is more important than the country

Plow through checks and balances in the name of democracy and political mandate

Define repressive acts as democratic

Maintain control of electoral process (false diversity and inclusion and coelution)

Create an illusion of competitive elections, all the while, squelching the process

Create massive administrative state

Restrict free speech

Rewrite our language (pronouns)

Impose beliefs and thought processes (such as CRT and DEI)

Brainwash / thought control (cancel all who resist)

Reengineer society and the individual

Keep bloating the government

Spend more

Hire more bureaucrats

Rule by regulation

Rule by Executive Order

More audits

Order more investigations

Enforce more penalties

Levy more fines

Impose price controls

Impose wage controls (minimum wage... was the beginning)

Create government-run healthcare

Nationalize drug companies

Impose a wealth tax (confiscatory)

Increase taxes (for successful people)

Increase corporate taxes

Control education

Control the child upbringing (the children belong to the community)

Destruction of the nuclear family

Mass amnesty

This list should sound uncannily familiar, and very scary regarding what's happening in America today.

A Democracy is literally Mobocracy; in which the majority always rules over the minority. This is why democrats complain about the “Electoral College” and always promote “popular vote.”

A Republic form of government protects individual rights. When a politician says they want to restore our Republic, they are on the correct tract. When a politician says they we need to protect the democracy, they are speaking contrary to our true form of government, our Constitutional Republic.

What sets America apart from other countries and nations? Or what USED to set us apart...

Our Constitutional Republic form of government, which is to be government of the people, by the people and for the people; “Consent of the governed,” is different than any other nation. With the electoral college, the lesser populated areas of the nation will not be overruled by the more populated metropolitan areas of the nation. The ownership of private property also sets America apart from other nations.

Mindy Patterson wrote on her website, TheCalvaryGroup.com

Private property is the cornerstone of America's prosperity and freedom, embodying the very essence of individual rights and personal liberty. This principle, deeply rooted in the foundation of the United States, is crucial to ensuring that citizens maintain control over their lives and livelihoods. John Adams, one of our nation's Founding Fathers, wisely stated, “Property must be secured, or Liberty cannot exist.” This profound insight underscores the intrinsic link between property rights and the broader concept of liberty itself. Without secure ownership of property, the freedoms that define our nation would be compromised, as individuals would lack the independence and security necessary to pursue their own paths.

Democracies are nothing more than mob rule and it is all the elitists who will rule the mob.

Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of happiness, as stated in the Declaration of Independence, are attributes characteristic of a Constitutional Republic.

Democracies destroy themselves and those leading our nation now are out to destroy our Constitutional Republic.

Consent of the Governed is an important phrase within our Declaration of Independence; and a republic form of government will only work, if the “public” is working it. We the People must be active and stay knowledgeable of our government and the shysters who are in positions of authority.

The unfortunate truth is “We didn’t Keep It.” The great experiment did not fail, We the People failed the great experiment.

There is no Liberty without our “Republic” form of government.

"The price of liberty is eternal vigilance." Thomas Jefferson

I know all of you patriots are growing weary of this constant battle. The politicians, the media, and even the institutions “we” put in place to protect our Liberty are now lost to an oligarchy of mobocracy.

Take a rest now and then, if you must, but do not allow yourself to give up or become complacent. I believe in you, the American people, We the People!

I believe we can restore our nation. It will not be easy! We cannot do it by sitting on the sidelines cheering, we must get involved and be the “public” within the republic... and... “Bring America Home. ☺”

“We, the American People” who voted for President Donald J. Trump are misguided dullards. Given a media article knows how to decide if voters are intellectually competent. We might, if we are inclined to take article writer to task, point out America’s commonwealth, federal (U.S./National), and state Constitutions do not require voters to demonstrate those attributes media article writers find acceptable.

There Is Nothing In "Our, the American People's" electoral system to stop voters from electing Donald Duck as America's president. Getting Donald Duck to take office would be a bit of a chore. Still, we can elect Donald Duck if we choose to elect Donald Duck. Wouldn't be too much of a stretch to say we've elected out fair share of quacks in every election since America started holding elections.

"Bureaucracy, the rule of no one, has become the modern form of despotism."

Once Upon A Time In America a self-styled sage told some of "Us, the American People" no one elected to public office ought be allowed to take office without passing a Constitutional competency test. Sage got a standing ovation. Having heard sage say sage and associates would write Constitutional competency test a listener asked if sage would apply same requirement to voters. No standing ovation.

"Equality of opportunity is freedom, but equality of outcome is repression."

~ Dick Feagler

If America's Commonwealth, Federal (U.S./National) , and state Constitutions are worth parchment recording their words, Constitutional competency is demonstrated by virtue of an election win. For it is self-governing sovereign citizenries who administer Constitutional competency test when they cast their ballots in election booths. Constitutional competency is defined by voters exercising free choice.
