“Our, the American People’s” media report President Donald J. Trump’s tariff (trade tax) revenue has risen steadily, based on federal Treasury Department data. April tariff (trade tax) revenue is reported up some 60% over March; projections for May reported to be higher. March tariff (trade tax)/excise revenue was reported over $15B. Whether tariff (trade tax) revenue will abolish income tax pending.

For some reason when Biden was firing federal workers for refusing the vaccine, not one Democrat spoke up. But firing federal workers for wasting taxpayer money is the end of democracy as we know it according to the democrats.

"We, the American People," if we are serious about stopping government from confiscating property (wealth) and restricting choice (Liberty) will have to stop government from using direct taxation as part of selective, arbitrary, and discriminatory legislation, taxation, and regulation (SADLT&R). Direct taxation has been part of SADLT&R for more than a century. We can expect legislative opposition.

Between all the indictments, felony charges, accusations of insurrection, two impeachments and two assassination attempts, not one of his accusers has committed suicide.

No American Business Can Force paying customers to walk through its doors. American businesses offering competitively priced goods and services will have customers waiting in line for company doors to open.

Government would have no tax revenue, were it not for consumers parting with their property (wealth) in exchange for goods and services. Government, in contrast, can exact tax payments.

"I like to think of myself as something of a curator for the Museum of the Decline of Civilization."

~ N.B. Driggers

Arguments Against Tariffs (Trade taxes) replacing America's federal income tax include there being insufficient import business to provide enough tariff (trade tax) revenue to offset revenue lost if America's federal income tax were to be eliminated. To say satisfying government needs supersedes ordinary people's needs is to say government supersedes ordinary people. A sure recipe for tyranny

As I read through all the political articles analyzing political issues, there's a lot of talk about the democrats, republicans and bureaucrats. What I find insulting and quite telling is the missing element; We the People.

Like an unwanted stepchild, our lives are insignificant to a large majority of the D.C. Occupiers.

I recently read an article, which was reporting on numerous polls taken among the government republicans, democrats and bureaucrats. Only one question on the survey or poll was directed to We the People, for which there was an overwhelming support for the actions President Trump is initiating: deportation, tariffs, trade, jobs, energy, downsizing government, election integrity, proof of citizenship, less spending and tax cuts. However, that (or We the People) was not the focus of the article.

The main purpose of this particular poll or survey, was actually reporting and establishing the truth and a movement by many within the government, who are plotting to pull some deep-state-stunts, by ignoring orders given by the President of the United States, President Trump. I believe we could maybe call it an inside insurrection.

When you listen to all the political rhetoric, you would think there are only two sides, those for President Trump and those against him. In the meantime, the unwanted stepchildren sit on the sideline and watch the arguments of the rest of the family.

Yes, We the People are given little to no legitimacy and are reduced to the unwanted stepchildren; does it not feel that way? They call us names like; deplorables, irredeemable, homophobes, rubes, xenophobes, Nazis, racists, sexists and other low-level terminologies. The persons calling out these labels think quite highly of themselves, but I have noticed the things they say, do and promote are truly disgusting, violent and depraved in nature.

We the People are not the unwanted stepchildren; We the People are the highest citizens of this nation; We are America! By the way, I have nothing against stepchildren, I was simply using that term from the story of Cinderella. The evil stepmother and her daughters treated “Cindy” badly; but Karma won the day in that fairy tale.

Upgrade to paid

The wants of We the People are ignored in D.C., yet it is We the People they should be trying to please. American government has been topsy-turvy for decades. While we have three branches of government; Executive, Legislative and Judicial, it all begins with We the People. With the exception of the judicial branch, the other government officials are elected by We the People and they have an obligation to We the People. So, how did this all get turned inside outside upside down?

Despite the gaslighting we have endured, understanding the Constitution is not that difficult. What “they” tell us is complicated, is actually corruption for which “they” are attempting to hide.

I understand not everyone in this nation voted for President Trump, but an overwhelming number of Americans did; so why are the D.C. Occupiers and their bureaucrats opposing his authority? (BTW any person, including judges, who were not elected by We the People, do not have authority over the highest office in the land, nor do they exist to micromanage the President of the United States.)

There is a “pecking order” as they say, and We the People are not the stepchildren in the corner, we are at the top of the government leaderboard. It is laid out clearly in the Declaration of Independence.

*We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.—That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed...

Our position of authority is also in the Constitution of the United States of America. The very first words, are not “We the Bureaucrats”, or “We the Congressmen”, or “We the Judges”. They are, however:

We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

Upgrade to paid

Consent of the Governed is an extremely important phrase which verifies the fact that We the People are the power of the government. Unfortunately, if we continue to stand in the corner like a whipped puppy, those who are in our charge will continue to bully their way to the top. Have you noticed that the elected officials, who have no term limits, seem to think they have no limits at all? They will spend, practice insider trading, promote radical ideals, misinterpret the Bill of Rights, tax you, fine you, restrict your life, control your living, and reduce you to a government serf... In fact, many of them do not believe in parental rights, but say our children “belong to the community.” It doesn’t get any more communist than that, now does it! This attitude is reflected in the unelected bureaucratic offices as well, as they regulate, mandate, force permits, licenses and fines upon We the People; our businesses, our properties and our land. That is truly taxation without representation.

It's time We the People started making our voices heard. Our American government was established as a Constitutional Republic. What that means is that the Republic, We the People as the Consent of the Governed, are the ones in charge. Like a democracy, the people vote for their officials, but in a Republic the elected officials have a contract from We the People... it’s called the Constitution, and they are to follow it to the letter! Which also means, the original intent as our Founding Fathers wrote it. Examples: The Second Amendment of the Bill of Rights states that it “shall not be infringed.” The intention of our Founders was that We the People must always have an unrestricted right to own firearms; of all kinds, as well as ammo. They (the DC Occupiers) also inserted subliminally, if you will, the lie of the separation of church and state. The elected want to remove God so that they have no moral compass to govern, but the First Amendment is about We the People having the right to worship and practice our faith openly. It was written to keep government out of the church, not faith out of the government.

When I began this article, it was not my intention to get into all the weeds but to simply bring us back to the understanding that We the People are the government. We should not be silent but we should take our rightful positions as employers over our elected officials.

We elected President Trump to “clean up D.C.” and return this nation back to the original intent of our Constitutional Republic. President Trump took a bullet for us, I think it's time we let those democrats, RINOs and their bureaucrats know that we will not have them obstructing the orders from our President!

202-224-3121 is the switchboard for D.C.

You should also send your Representatives and Senators a post card or letter, to kindly tell them to support this President and stop the obstructions. Remind them too, that it is their responsibility to immediately reign in all those rogue judges.

Liberty is always in the hands of the people, but first it must be a longing and lust within their hearts. "Eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty." It does require action! As the Consent of the Governed, We the People need to show up more often than every 2 or 4 or 6 years!

The old saying, "You can't beat city hall," is a lie! We the People own city hall, and we should learn how to manage our employees...

"In concentrating on the ends of choice, the conservative, by neglecting the conditions of choice, loses that very morality of conduct with which he is so concerned."

~ Murray Rothbard

"Our, the American People's" media have no paucity of news on President Donald J. Trump's angry opposition looking for ways to derail President Donald J.'s initiatives. Amongst President Donald J.'s legislative detractors, impeachment is as common a way as any. Not easy, as one Congressional Senate legislator told people at a town hall meeting. Not easy due GOP-controlled Congress. By Election 2024.

"Human life is not some sort of race or game in which each person should start from an identical mark. It is an attempt by each man to be as happy as possible."

"We, the American People" have every opportunity to seat in legislative power those candidates we, naively, believe will cast their legislature votes as we expect to uphold our ideals. Legislators, vowing, no doubt, due diligence, cast legislative votes as their personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB) urge. Town hall attendees demanding democrat legislators do more against GOP won't do enough.

The Bridge House in Ambleside, England was built in the 17th century on a bridge over a river in order to avoid paying property taxes

President Donald J. Trump has said his Administration will act in accordance with law. Law is subject to interpretation. Clear law needs no PAVB interpretation. Not in theory, anyway. Foolhardy for “Us, the American People” to tolerate laws, not clearly articulated, causing us to be in error because we do not interpret law as would, say, a legislator, or a judge, or an executive branch law enforcement officer.

When A Judge, For Example, Forbids America's president from letting go federal workers, owing to a union agreement, such action by said judge amounts to forcing American taxpayers to surrender their property (wealth) to keep affected government workers employed and receiving paychecks at taxpayer expense. We, a sovereign citizenry, forced to relinquish property (wealth), would live under despotism.

Those Of "Us, the American People" who are deeply and gravely concerned about how President Donald J. Trump and America's courts are at odds, can type three words in any Internet search engine for extensive, profound, provoking, theoretical, and hypothetical musings. Trump against judiciary. It might occur to those of us who pull threads to spools, law enforcement is not so cut and dry after all.

"Civil disobedience becomes a sacred duty when the State becomes lawless or, which is the same thing, corrupt."

~ Mohandas Gandhi

Having Typed 'Trump Against Judiciary' in a typical Internet search engine, "We, the American People" might come across a work from a Center for Justice outlining how court orders can be enforced. Work in question consists of just shy of 1,500 words letting readers know court order enforcement is dependent on those tasked with law enforcement deciding if law shall be enforced. No certainty.

"Truth resides in every human heart, and one has to search for it there, and to be guided by truth as one sees it. But no one has a right to coerce others to act according to his own view of truth."

~ Mohandas Gandhi

"Our, the American People's" courts, including America's Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS), all said and done, render opinions. Statistically, court orders are more often carried out than not. America's representative Constitutional republic government system, though, does not guarantee court rulings will be followed. Roe v Wade history exemplifies rather unequivocally.

"Freedom is not worth having if it does not connote freedom to err. It passes my comprehension how human beings, be they ever so experienced and able, can delight in depriving other human beings of that precious right."

~ Mohandas K. Gandhi

President Donald J. Trump's Administration has taken to challenging court/SCOTUS authority. Some might hold President Donald J.'s audacity, so challenging, amounts to contempt of court. Might be. America was founded on contempt for British courts. Not all of us may like recognizing America's three coequal government branches sets stage for no branch having final say. Recipe for confrontation.
