It Would Be An Understatement to say politicians not anxious to defend their positions make use of incendiary invective to quiet people calling on them to defend their positions. Some are hostile enough to call people who question them stupid, and they who are stupid should not have temerity to ask said politicians any questions. Media report a Midwest Congressional Rep. referred to WWII as WW eleven.

~ George Orwell

"We, the American People," oddly enough, manage to elect politicians who appear to know all but nothing when they lecture potholes. Why we elect such politicians is vague, at least from AI's point of view. AI has it there are several factors contributing to how it is we may not be fully represented by those who have power to confiscate property (wealth) and restrict choice (Liberty). No doubt. None.

~ Noam Chomsky

If "Our, the American People's" government representatives do not fulfil their Constitutional obligations, we are fools to allow them to remain in office. Elected officials are not guaranteed one second in office. We, regardless their elected status, can decide we've made a mistake by electing them, and reopen election(s) to correct our mistake. At our pleasure, do they serve. At our pleasure.

"Restriction of free thought and free speech is the most dangerous of all subversions. It is the one un-American act that could most easily defeat us all."

It Would Be Smart for “Us, the American People,” if we expect competence and integrity from our elected officials, to settle for nothing less than total transparency and verifiable accuracy from those we empower to conduct our public affairs. We will, for certain, not get transparency and verifiable accuracy if we do not nail those office holders who presume to act as though we are their servants.

There Is Media Word Some Congressional House democrats have introduced a bill to make “Our, the American People’s” federal minimum wage $25/hour. There Is No Free Lunch. Unless “We, the American People” happen to be among those who are heavily subsidized by government (public/taxpayer) funded projects or programs. (The American Crisis by Thomas Paine, December 23, 1776)

‘Tis surprising to see how rapidly a panic will sometimes run through a country. All nations and ages have been subject to them. Britain has trembled like an ague at the report of a French fleet of flat-bottomed boats; and in the fourteenth [fifteenth] century the whole English army, after ravaging the kingdom of France, was driven back like men petrified with fear; and this brave exploit was performed by a few broken forces collected and headed by a woman, Joan of Arc. Would that heaven might inspire some Jersey maid to spirit up her countrymen, and save her fair fellow sufferers from ravage and ravishment! Yet panics, in some cases, have their uses; they produce as much good as hurt. Their duration is always short; the mind soon grows through them, and acquires a firmer habit than before. But their peculiar advantage is, that they are the touchstones of sincerity and hypocrisy, and bring things and men to light, which might otherwise have lain forever undiscovered. In fact, they have the same effect on secret traitors, which an imaginary apparition would have upon a private murderer. They sift out the hidden thoughts of man, and hold them up in public to the world. Many a disguised Tory has lately shown his head, that shall penitentially solemnize with curses the day on which Howe arrived upon the Delaware.

(The American Crisis Continues by Beth Ann)

A crisis that creates a panic is the best way to control and manipulate a people.

Upon reading this portion of Thomas Paine's, The American Crisis, I gasped at its relevance today. While we are not yet in such a military conflict, the observations of human reactions by Paine are evident in our situation, as the American Crisis Continues.

It would seem that America is lacking in a Joan of Arc or Jersey Maid that is capable or willing to spirit her countrymen for the sake of Liberty.

It was surprising to see how rapidly a panic ran through this country and the world with the pandemic of 2020. All nations and ages have been subject to them. Australia trembled like an ague at the prospect of a virus on their land. Spain was hit hard and fast with great spreading of the virus. France trembled and yet they were already under great fear with the influx of immigrants and violence in their streets.

The world powers were stopped in their tracks as they began to react and overreact to the pandemic.

It is surprising to see how rapidly a panic will sometimes run through a country. How quickly were our personal vulnerabilities revealed to us in America...We seemed completely incapable of self-governance.

Deceptions and Crises seem to benefit the Democrat Party, as they will claim an existential threat and call for more regulations, more restrictions on the lives of Americans, and push people out of their jobs, off their property, and into the poor house. The Constitution of the United States seems to be of little or no deterrence for their tyranny.

“You never want a serious crisis to go to waste. And what I mean by that is an opportunity to do things that you think you could not do before.”—Rahm Emanuel, former democrat Mayor of Chicago.

The year of the pandemic, 2020 which was also the year of a presidential election, revealed a great deal to the American people. We felt the sting of tyranny, and we felt disappointment in the tyranny of an election stolen.

So many crises, so little Liberty~ When you’re dealing with tyrants in leadership.

Oh that America would raise up a modern-day Joan of Arc! I have seen none brave enough or wise enough to boldly lead this nation.

The pandemic proved to many American patriots that we have a serious problem; dependence on other nations, which is not “Independence.”

If we have learned anything from the “tyranny” of the pandemic era in America, it is that a nation, which is divided, will soon fall and their freedom will die. The opposite of this pessimistic but true statement is the assurance that a nation, in which We the People are united, will thrive.

Let this recent past be our clarion call; unite, American patriots and...

Since I wrote this commentary sharing my opinion of today's modern American Crisis in comparison to Thomas Paine's "The American Crisis," there has been another attempted assassination of our President, Donald J. Trump. The intentions of the assassin, according to his manifesto, was to assassinate not only the President, but the Vice President and numerous members of the President's cabinet.

The fact that our nation is so divided, is an American Crisis!

We are in a civil war in this nation, but only one side is shooting. Marxism defines the Democrat Party. You need to know and understand that Marxists rule by intimidation and violence; there is very little difference between the current Democrat Party and those of radical Islam who believe they should kill any who disagree with their political views. Rule by force is the way of every Marxist. They need the people to be afraid; fear of where their next meal is coming from, and fear for their very lives.

This recent attempted assassination at the White House Correspondence Dinner had reporters from both the left and the right sides of politics present. Those who carry the torch for the Democrat-Marxist-Party need to understand; their lives do not matter to them. "Propaganda carriers" are a dime a dozen, you can be replaced by another "reader" at any time. Your life does not matter to the Democrat-Marxist-Party.

As long as this division continues to be violent, averting any and all commonsense conversations, Americans are not truly free.

The Democrat-Marxist Party needs to be voted out of positions of power. They are not worthy to represent Americans. The DNC does not believe in God, and therefore they do not believe in inalienable rights. They hold to the position that your rights are merely privileges granted by them; elected officials. They do not believe in equality, they are driven by racism and prejudices; they are consumed by their own preconceived power.

America has overcome many an obstacle throughout 250 years. This might be our greatest challenge; to overcome the crisis that has caused divisiveness that has reached the point of panic, bring their followers to enact violence against President Trump and his entire administration, and those who support him.

It's time Americans all realize if you're on the left, you will never be free! If you're on the right, the Democrats want you "gone." The Democrats will always rule by violence; it's up to all Americans to end this crisis and....

Self-Government Is Nigh Impossible for “Us, the American People” when America’s courts have power to decide how voting districts shall be laid out. Sundry media articles report efforts by legislative majorities across America to draw voting districts with a design to favor parties holding legislative power. Efforts to away elections by fiat will not stop until they are stopped by voters.

Realizing Unbiased Government Is Tricky when "We, the American People" make voting decisions based on potential benefits we might get from government as a function of who gets elected. We would be smart to force government, at all levels, to restrict legislation to outcomes treating all citizens alike. Trouble is, elected officials want their personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB) made law.

Free Societies Risk Losing Freedom when government is left to govern by selective, arbitrary, and discriminatory legislation, taxation, and regulation (SADLT&R). Legislators, government chief executive, and judges use SADLT&R to make their PAVB lawfully compulsory. PAVB-driven SADLT&R is all but impossible to avoid under "Our, the American People's" triumvirate system.

Legislative Content In A Triumvirate government framework is largely dependent on political party dominance in judicial, executive, and legislative branches. Theoretically, triumvirate government is prima facie balanced government, meaning no one branch has disproportionate power. In reality, voters can, by electing political majorities, skew government toward PAVB-driven SADLT&R autocracy.
