"Our, the American People's" Congressional GOP legislators know President Donald J. Trump's MAGA/DOGE (Department Of Government Efficiency) is a disaster; they are not willing to say so. So, is considered opinion of a Congressional democrat legislator. Democrat legislator in question claims GOP legislators support President Donald J. in public, are worried about him in private.

"The present system combining taxation and inflation is akin to watering the milk; too much water and the people catch on."

Media Coverage In Line With Democrat legislators scorning GOP legislators note examples of President Donald J. Trump tariff (trade tax) policy gone awry. Radical slowdown in port of entry traffic. Trucker traffic slowing due fewer goods enroute retailers. Commodity prices going up. All said to show President Donald J.'s economic program is not working as touted by President Donald J.

"The Government is like a baby's alimentary canal, with a happy appetite at one end and no responsibility at the other."

~ Ronald Reagan

“We, the American People,” given President Donald J. Trump’s MAGA/DOGE is headed for disaster, it will keep heading for disaster if we don’t do something to correct it. We can’t rely on a different Congressional legislator crop to bring about socio-economic prosperity. Legislators, arguably, can’t afford to have socio-economic tranquility. Socio-economic tranquility puts legislators out of work.

"Government does not solve problems; it subsidizes them."

Historically Speaking, It Is Fair to say expecting legislators to solve socio-economic problems is a fool's errand. History shows "Us, the American People" government has never resolved conflicts between people. Governments have used lawful force to quell disruptive action. For a time. Deep-seated division, eventually, erupts. Law pits people against people. Question of who wins, who doesn't.

"There's a clear cause and effect here that is as neat and predictable as a law of physics: As government expands, liberty contracts."

~ Ron Paul

'Constitutional Crisis' Pops Up in "Our, the American People's" media rather often. Type 'Constitutional Crisis' into your Internet search engine of choice. Results will be provoking, at best. And titillating. America's representative Constitutional republic governmental form does not lend itself to easy grasp. Not for anyone who looks to government for readily understandable problem solutions.

"Remember, politicians get votes by promising everything to everyone, always at the expense of some other invisible taxpayers."

~ Ron Paul

God: Gives humans grain and chickens

Humans: Makes chick-fil-a sandwiches

If "We, the American People" are confronted by Constitutional crises, it is because America's commonwealth, federal (U.S./National), and state Constitutions are framed around a governmental system whereby three competing government branches have, ostensibly, equal power thought to be how tyranny is avoided through a notion of checks and balances. A system of never-ending tension.

"The federal government cannot maintain a budget surplus any more than an alcoholic can leave a fresh bottle of whiskey untouched in the cupboard."

~ Ron Paul

Seeking Justice Is How It Is our three-branch, 'nobody-in-charge,' government system came about. Justice. Getting a practical handle on justice is an exercise in futurity. Reference inquiry leads to endless reference inquiry leading back to where one started. No better chance for “Us, the American People” to find justice in our three-branch government system than finding Buddhist Nirvana.

"I am convinced that there are more threats to American liberty within the 10 mile radius of my office on Capitol Hill than there are on the rest of the globe."

~ Ron Paul

We Are Deluged With Media-reported Constitutional crises because our Constitutions leave it up to our three-branch government system to reconcile conflicts dividing us by making laws when there are no Constitutionally-derived standards for law-making. Laws amount to codifying legislator-held personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB). PAVB come from ideas of perceived inviolable truth.

"If the government is granted a monopoly on the use of force to achieve these goals, history shows that power is always abused. Every single time."

"Our, the American People's" parental rights are next to meaningless when government has power to deny parents their prerogative of raising their children with values parents decide are appropriate. Our Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS), according to media reports, will hear a case where parents are challenging an end to an opt-opt measure for books with subjects contrary to their values.

"The real freedom of any individual can always be measured by the amount of responsibility which he must assume for his own welfare and security."

~ Robert Welch

Me as a parent

America's Public (Government) Schools are taxpayer-funded. Taxpayer-funded by government power to confiscate property (wealth) and restrict choice. Confiscated wealth going to support schools; choice restriction whereby government decides curriculum content, along with range of subject matter content to be available in school libraries. SCOTUS case would, reportedly, no longer restrict content exposure.

"19 terrorists in 6 weeks have been able to command 300 million North Americans to do away with the entirety of their civil liberties that took 700 years to advance from the Magna Carta onward. The terrorists have already won the political and ideological war with one terrorist act. It is mindboggling that we are that weak as a society."

~ Rocco Galati

“We, the American People” would be smart to keep in mind education has a singular purpose. To control behavior. Peoples’ behavior is driven by their personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB). PAVB are developed from exposure as one’s life unfolds. Government policies, implemented by force of law, are no less derived from PAVB than are PAVB held by individuals or groups, including families.

"There are in fact four very significant stumblingblocks in the way of grasping the truth, which hinder every man however learned, and scarcely allow anyone to win a clear title to wisdom, namely, the example of weak and unworthy authority, longstanding custom, the feeling of the ignorant crowd, and the hiding of our own ignorance while making a display of our apparent knowledge."

~ Roger Bacon

SCOTUS Case In Question Deals With choice. Choice parents may exercise when rearing their children. Free societies limit choice by norms backed by sovereign citizenries, rather than edicts promulgated through law enforcement. It would be an affront to "Us, the American People's" freedom of choice, were SCOTUS to rule to end opt-out choice in question. Law protects, doesn't define PAVB.

"The War on Drugs is a price support system for terrorists and drug pushers."

People Expecting To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators - or other public officials within These United States of America, to require parents to enroll their children in public (government) schools. They protect their children's intellectual freedom and raise them to be thinking adults.

"If the government can't keep drugs away from inmates who are locked in steel cages, surrounded by barbed wire, watched by armed guards, drug-tested, strip-searched, X-rayed, and videotaped - how can it possibly stop the flow of drugs to an entire nation?"

"Our, the American People's" media report financial world's iconic figure, Warren Buffett warns tariffs (trade taxes) should not be used as a weapon. Not a first time America has been accused of engaging in economic imperialism, albeit Mr. Buffett did not accuse America of outright intimidation. President Donald J. Trump's tariff (trade tax) policy is seen by critics as a form of civil weaponization.

"The man who does not do his own thinking is a slave, and is a traitor to himself and to his fellow-men."

~ Robert Ingersoll

Opening up in therapy but realising you're saying stuff that will get you admitted

"We, the American People," depending on how we might look at something like, say, fairness, could, easily enough, accuse President Donald J. Trump of using his tariff (trade tax) policy to influence other countries in trade negotiations. Consumers, no matter how we might try rationalizing tariff (trade tax) policies, bear all costs of all taxes levied for any reason. Tariffs (trade taxes) are taxes, nothing else.

"I will not attack your doctrines nor your creeds if they accord liberty to me. If they hold thought to be dangerous - if they aver that doubt is a crime, then I attack them one and all, because they enslave the minds of men."

~ Robert G. Ingersoll

President Donald J. Trump argues his tariff (trade tax) policies will benefit "Us, the American People" by, in addition to making import taxes more fair, boost domestic job-making. Media report Canadian business, some at any rate, are increasing production, thereby adding to Canada's domestic product sales. Governments use tariffs (trade taxes) to further government ideolog through economic leverage.

"What light is to the eyes – what air is to the lungs – what love is to the heart, liberty is to the soul of man."

~ Robert G. Ingersoll

Whether Two Countries Ought Have dissimilar tariffs (trade/import taxes) is debatable. Doubtless, theoreticians would have differing ideas about tariff (trade/import tax) equity, should argument center, for example, on improving lives for people in underdeveloped countries. Charging one country with responsibility for improving or protecting other countries leads to forthright corruption – to corruption.

"Public Schools too often fail because they are shielded from the very force that improves performance and sparks innovation in nearly every other human enterprise - competition."

~ Robert Lutz

People Determined To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to prompt public (government) schools to delve into their children's attitudes, values, or beliefs. They raise their children to be independent thinkers.

"Taxation of earnings from labor is on a par with forced labor. Seizing the results of someone's labor is equivalent to seizing hours from him and directing him to carry on various activities."
