Mother Always Said, “Do Your Homework!”

As this is Mother's Day weekend, I decided I would apply a little motherly advice to my Substack article.

Upgrade to paid

As soon as we were home from school, Mother's question was always, "Do you have homework?" The rule was - homework first! There was to be no playing outside, no watching TV, no playtime at all; until homework was done.

Reading, Writing and Arithmetic

Obviously, if we didn't do our math homework, we wouldn't know how to balance our checkbooks or how to multiply fractions when doubling a recipe. If we didn't study all those spelling words, practice using them in sentences, take our English and reading classes seriously, we would have great difficulty with writing, reading and comprehension.

Now that I am a grown woman, no longer in school, and even though my mother is no longer here to encourage me to do my homework, adulthood does not mean homework isn't still necessary.

Faith in God is Freeing, Opinions bring Conversations, Knowledge brings Freedom.

As I study each morning for my talk show, I love to consider, and many times apply the words from our Founding Fathers to my on-air conversations.

“I consider knowledge to be the soul of a Republic, and as the weak and the wicked are generally in alliance, as much care should be taken to diminish the number of the former as of the latter. Education is the way to do this, and nothing should be left undone to afford all ranks of people the means of obtaining a proper degree of it at a cheap and easy rate.” John Jay, First Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

One of my first thoughts or questions regarding the conclusion of John Jay’s quote, is why, in America, if education is so important, do we make it so financially difficult for Americans to gain knowledge?

However, it was the first part of his comment that captured me; “I consider knowledge to be the soul of a Republic...” CSC Talk Radio is my daily talk show, it is conservative in nature and opinionated from my heart and head. Common Sense Conversations is the goal of the show; however, it takes a lot of studying on my part, as well as gleaning from the knowledge of others, to make my show more than just a clanging cymbal.

Since Donald Trump the candidate, now President for the second time, came down that “golden” escalator, there has been a flood of arguments, impeachments, lawfare attacks, and total disregard and disrespect, not just for the man, but for the position of President of the United States. All this political chaos has led us to many questions and concerns regarding the legality of the attacks, and how they parallel with our United States Constitution, the Rule of Law, Due Process, and the rights of American citizens.

The LEFT and their cohorts who despise all things Trump, on one hand, are counting on us to remain ignorant and complacent in matters of government and Constitution. On the other hand, they would absolutely love for us to react violently, giving them cause to bring yet another attack on Trump. Therefore, it is my “opinion” that it is the obligation of every American to have knowledge of our governance; our Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, and to know who we are and what it means to be a Constitutional Republic.

“Unless the people, through unified action, rise and take charge of their government, they will find that their government has taken charge of them. Independence and Liberty will be gone, and the general public will find itself in a condition of servitude to an aggregation of organized and selfish interest.” Calvin Coolidge, the 30th president of the United States.

“A well-informed citizenry is the best defense against tyranny.” Thomas Jefferson

I question as to whether or not we are well informed, given the fact that the media continually lies to us. Their deception and arrogance does not excuse us from taking it upon ourselves to “do our homework” but actually gives us more reason to do so.

Forming opinions is easy, however it is our obligation as citizens to gain in knowledge.

It was through love that Mom insisted that I do my homework. We should love our country and our families and realize true freedom relies on knowledge of our rights. We should place, as a high priority, the importance of studying and remaining vigilant in matters of government, and in the Word of God most of all.

Let us tenderly and kindly cherish, therefore, the means of knowledge. Let us dare to read, think, speak, and write. John Adams

Faith in God is Freeing, Opinions bring Conversations, Knowledge brings Freedom.

Knowledge is the soul of a Republic...

Since it's Mother's Day weekend, I will ask you America.... "Did you do your homework?"

The very Left 9th Circuit Court has ruled that 84 of Biden's last-minute pardons are unconstitutional. Judge Joe Barron wrote in his opinion:

"There is no precedent for pardoning someone who hasn't been charged with a crime. President Biden's pre-emptive pardons are, therefore, outside the constraints of constitutional law."

"We, the American People," who are privileged to be American taxpayers, will be giving voluntary illegal immigrant/migrant/refugee (IIMR) deportees a monetary bonus if they take it upon themselves to leave U.S. soil before they are detained and escorted out under guard. Hard to say who will be awaiting their arrival at touchdown, rail station, bus stop, or dock. Money attracts all kinds. All kinds.

"If politicians were serious about day care for children, instead of just sloganizing about it, nothing they could do would improve the quality of child care more than by lifting the heavy burden of taxation that forces so many families to have both parents working."

"Al, any more great ideas on keeping the races all mad and fighting?"

We will make America strong again.
We will make America safe again.
And we will make America great again, greater than ever before.

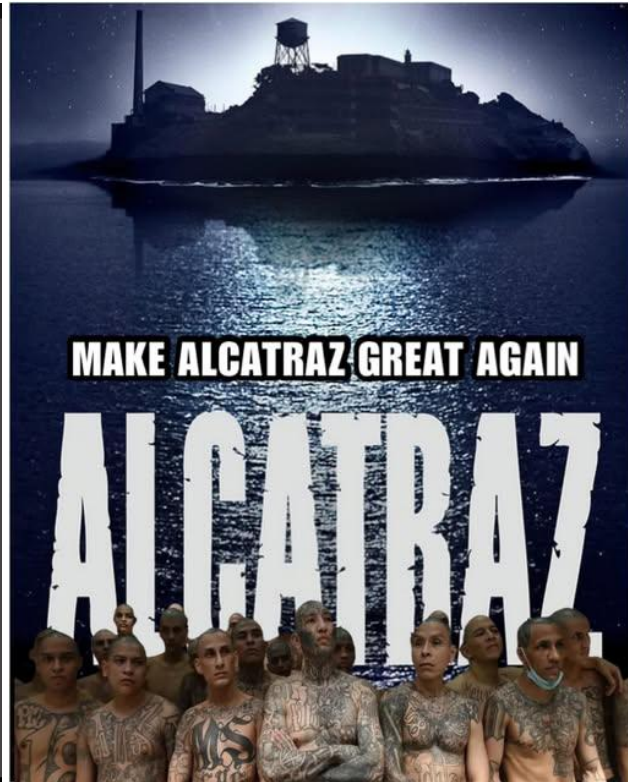

— Donald Trump —

AZ QUOTES

No Question, Using "Our, the American People's" law enforcement folks to hunt down and detain IIMR people takes time and money – taxpayer money. Might even save more per voluntary deportee than cost per corralling involuntary IIMR deportee. If our government officials are sane about voluntary deportation, there could be a sizeable savings in court cost avoidance. Reasonable plan if it works.

"The Internal Revenue service is not asking anybody to do anything. It confiscates your assets and puts you behind bars if you don't pay."

~ Thomas Sowell

It Should Not Surprise "Us, the American People," should there be protests from all pro-IIMR corners. There is likely no IIMR solution satisfactory to pro-IIMR situation, other than for IIMR people to be allowed unconditional U.S. entry with all expenses paid by American taxpayers for as long as it takes for IIMR people to start earning their keep. For those who never do, they can stick around at no cost.

"Asking liberals where wages and prices come from is like asking six-year-olds where babies come from."

~ Thomas Sowell

A Bonus-Laced Voluntary Deportation brainstorm could have never-ending taxpayer cost. Industrious IIMR individuals, could be enterprising enough to find their way onto U.S. soil, bide their time, then knock on a local lockup door for three 'hots-and-a-cot' till they have a ticket out, cash in hand. Solution to IIMR problem is world-wide effort to alleviate conditions prompting IIMR dilemma in first place.

"What is history but the story of how politicians have squandered the blood and treasure of the human race."

It's Always Risky to buy stocks based on someone else's say-so. Even when who's saying so happens to be "Our, the American People's" President Donald J. Trump. President Donald J. is on record advising now is a good time to buy stocks, by remarking, "Go out and buy stocks now." President Donald J. could be right, given DOW Jones Industrial Stock Average (DJIA) has been off a while.

"If you have been voting for politicians who promise to give you goodies at someone else's expense, then you have no right to complain when they take your money and give it to someone else, including themselves."

~ Thomas Sowell

Optimum DJIA Stock Buys Are Generally considered when markets are down. If there is sufficient evidence share prices will rebound soon. Down markets have lots of reasons, including profit-taking. "We, the American People," who are investors on a regular basis, would be smart not to unload shares as a strategy to cut losses. For every sale, there is a buy. Number of shares doesn't go down with price.

"No matter how disastrously some policy has turned out, anyone who criticizes it can expect to hear: 'But what would you replace it with?' When you put out a fire, what do you replace it with?"

~ Thomas Sowell

INVESTODAY

Given Consternation Over President Donald J. Trump's tariff (trade tax) initiative, there is good reason for "Us, the American People" to review how we go about deciding where to put money to expend our portfolios. We have no reason, despite supposed coming tariff (trade tax) deals, to think all will be hunky-dory in due time. President Donald J.'s tariff (trade tax) policy has had repercussions.

"What is ominous is the ease with which some people go from saying that they don't like something to saying that the government should forbid it. "

~ Thomas Sowell

It Would Be Irresponsible For Us, as investors, to discount tariff (trade tax) policy as inconsequential where financial markets are concerned. Rather, tariffs (trade taxes) being foreign policy tools, we would be smart to look at our portfolios with an eye toward those stocks most likely to be affected by less than friendly policies between America and other countries. Domestic stocks could fare better.

"It is hard to imagine a more stupid or more dangerous way of making decisions than by putting those decisions in the hands of people who pay no price for being wrong."

~ Thomas Sowell

People Bent On Living In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to prompt public (government) schools to delve into their children’s attitudes, values, or beliefs. They raise their children to be independent thinkers.

"The most basic question is not what is best, but who shall decide what is best."

Topsy-Turvy Political News from "Our, the American People's" Sunshine State reports a radical shift in prospective voter preference after it became known President Donald J. Trump had endorsed a poll-lagging legislative office candidate. Once news of President Donald J.'s endorsement got out, poll-lagging candidate jumped ahead nearly two-fold. Post news candidate spouse has blamed foul play.

"Government ought to be as much open to improvement as anything which appertains to man, instead of which it has been monopolized from age to age, by the most ignorant and vicious of the human race."

~ Thomas Paine

"We, the American People" would be smart to be more than a little skeptical when we're told about such political turn-about like Sunshine State legislative office race. We would be just as smart to bear in mind a typical losing legislative office candidate will claim some form of dishonesty or other unfair play for losing a nomination or election. Knowing when political contests are fair is a crap shoot.

"It is the duty of the patriot to protect his country from its government."

Las Vegas Airport Is Named Harry Reid Airport after former U.S. Senator Harry Reid. Senator Reid was called to task after he spread false information about a losing presidential candidate. Former Senator Reid was unmoved, rather, responded to his accuser by noting presidential candidate in question didn't win ("... did he?"). Fair to say, in politics, win by any means available, but win.

"The strength and power of despotism consists wholly in the fear of resistance."

~ Thomas Paine

People Seek Legislative Office for one reason above all – to make their personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB) lawfully compulsory. Doesn't mean they are not filled with their sense of good intent. Des mean legislative office candidates, who are willing to forego their PAVB to satisfy any prevailing pressure from anyone for any reason, are legislative candidates who would set integrity aside to win.

"Every age and generation must be as free to act for itself, in all cases, as the ages and generations which preceded it."
