

The Transformation

Jim Crow Laws Enforced Segregation. “Our, the American People’s” media report black voters are in an uproar over Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS) April 29th, 2026 decision on Civil Rights Act race-based voting redistricting. Redistricting by gerrymandering to create voting districts favoring some people over others can be seen as a form of discrimination, an ostensible Constitution violation.

“Voters who live off taxpayers are the Democrats’ ace in the hole. The Democrats created big programs and never let the recipients forget it. This gives them an initial advantage of tens of millions of votes in any presidential election.”

~ Joseph Sobran

"We, the American People," if we intend and expect our legislators to refrain from padding tyrannical laws, would be smart to recognize, and hold in skepticism, Americas commonwealth, federal (U.S./National), and state Constitutions empower legislators to enact laws upholding Constitutional precepts and protections. So doing, legislators interpretation Constitutionality as they see it to be.

“Today the only countries without strong multiparty political systems are the United States and a number of third world military dictatorships.”

~ Thomas H. Naylor

It Would Be Folly for “Us, the American People” to think Constitutionality is rooted in incontrovertible idealism. When people consider themselves treated unfairly by government policy, practice, or legislation, they get angry. Doesn’t matter if SCOTUS decisions are objective. Objectivity goes out proverbial windows when people feel they’re mistreated, Voting Rights Act provisions followed or not.

The Imposter

THE HATER

Theew's Not Much Evidence beyond theory to support gerrymandering-like voting redistricting makes a difference when election returns are counted. Still, if legislative office candidates can use redistricting mania as a means to sway votes, then some semblance of election control has taken place. Neutral laws fight election bias more than redistricting. Wealth redistribution laws spur voter antagonism.

Media Tell “Us, the American People” a former gubernatorial candidate/voting rights activist has postulated America is no longer composed of blue and red states. Rather, America is composed of authoritarian states and democracy states. Pulling thread, it may well be up to us to decide those states authoritarian, those states democracy. Activist in question, by AI data, offers criteria, not state names.

“We, the American People,” if we work to sift out content bias, would be smart to consider former gubernatorial/activist political affiliation and activity. Activist bent, at least by alignment with individuals and groups, indicates activist seeks lawful power for one of America’s major political parties over its prime rival party. We’d not be in error to consider every political group authoritarian.

(The American Crisis by Thomas Paine, December 23, 1776)

I once felt all that kind of anger, which a man ought to feel, against the mean principles that are held by the Tories: a noted one, who kept a tavern at Amboy, was standing at his door, with as pretty a child in his hand, about eight or nine years old, as I ever saw, and after speaking his mind as freely as he thought was prudent, finished with this unfatherly expression, "Well! give me peace in my day." Not a man lives on the continent but fully believes that a separation must some time or other finally take place, and a generous parent should have said, "If there must be trouble, let it be in my day, that my child may have peace;" and this single reflection, well applied, is sufficient to awaken every man to duty. Not a place upon earth might be so happy as America. Her situation is remote from all the wrangling world, and she has nothing to do but to trade with them. A man can distinguish himself between temper and principle, and I am as confident, as I am that God governs the world, that America will never be happy till she gets clear of foreign dominion. Wars, without ceasing, will break out till that period arrives, and the continent must in the end be conqueror; for though the flame of liberty may sometimes cease to shine, the coal can never expire.

(The American Crisis Continues by Beth Ann)

Two hundred and fifty years past those unique and challenging times in the days of Thomas Paine, it would seem that America has no peace.

Americans who prefer to have “Peace in their day” ignore the chaos and divisiveness of our modern-day America. They have no sense of patriotism to protect their communities from violent rioters. We cannot take the law into our own hands, but we can vote into service men and women of integrity, who respect our laws and will see to it that our communities, our homes, and our families are safe.

Are the modern-day Torries sitting in their homes, watching on TV as hired Hessians vandalize, burn and destroy their communities? This is not necessarily a call for those inside to come out and “fight” the organized violent mobs. It is, however, a call for each to hold their elected officials accountable, to be aware of the truth of the laws, and therefore vote and demand peace and safety into their communities. It is our duty, as Americans...

Many fail to recognize the real enemy; the enemies to America are not your local police, your county sheriff, or the Federal ICE agents. Today’s enemies within are those who distort our history and reject all our Founding Documents. The Declaration of Independence is a beautiful example of the suffering our ancestors were putting up with, and unfortunately those same sufferings are upon us today. They reject the Constitution of the United States of America, as it restricts their power; yes, even those (or especially those) holding elected positions within our government. They take an oath to protect and preserve the Constitution of the United States, but then they speak and legislate against it. They loathe the Constitutional Republic form of government, for it is set up to give We the People power, this is why you hear them (too many of them) wanting to protect “democracy,” which is nothing more than mob rule and the first step into a socialistic government.

“Not a man lives on the continent but fully believes that a separation must some time or other finally take place.”

There is no true debate today, we must acknowledge that America is a divided nation. Our Founding Fathers argued on many topics, but their goal was the same: Liberty of a new nation, freedom for the people, an Independent and sovereign nation... Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness!

Excerpt the Preamble to the Constitution of the United States of America:

“We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.”

The Preamble in actuality is the “job description” for Congress.

Establish Justice

Insure domestic Tranquility

Provide for the common defense

Promote general Welfare (not social welfare)

Secure the Blessings of Liberty to...

Ourselves and our Posterity

... Our Posterity!

As Thomas Paine put it:

“If there must be trouble, let it be in my day, that my child may have peace...”

There Is No Letup on media articles reporting redistricting mania following “Our, the American People’s” Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS) April 29th, 2026 decision on race-based redistricting as it pertains to Civil Rights Act stipulations. Democrat and GOP legislators are reported scrambling feverishly to have their redistricting versions up and running before Election 2026.

“Politicians are always interested in people. Not that this is always a virtue. Fleas are interested in dogs.”

~ P.J. O’Rourke

“We, the American People” can be dead certain post-Election 2026 analysis will cast aspersions on how SCOTUS April 29th, 2026 decision skewed Election 2026 outcomes. We can take odds scant few, if any, post-Election 2026 outcome reports will consider voter independent mindedness principal reason Election 2026 resulted in shaping America’s political landscape. There must be bias. Must.

“A concern for states rights, local self government and regional identity used to be taken for granted everywhere in America. ”

~ Michael Hill

It Is Arguable There Would Be less emphasis on who wins elections were there not so much at stake for election winners and losers. Given elections winners have lawful power to confiscate property (wealth) and restrict choice (Liberty), there is compelling reason for “Us, the American People” to seat in office those public officials who will shelter wealth and Liberty, or subject them to legislative whim.

“Since a politician never believes what he says, he is surprised when others believe him.”

~ Charles DeGaulle

Redistricting Gerrymandering Held In Check or practiced into perpetuity, we can be all but absolutely certain our legislators, chief government executives, and judges will temper their job behavior with their personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB). Fairness, equity, equal opportunity, and prosperity are all in beholder eyes exerted by lawfully compulsory PAVB. Justice has no place in subjective PAVB.

“Politics I supposed to be the second-oldest profession. I have come to realize that it bears a very close resemblance to the first.”

~ Ronald Reagan

People Determined To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to interfere with how responsible citizens use their private property. They fiercely protect their most vital right – individual property ownership. Protecting property is protecting life.
