Assume you're always being manipulated

There Is Disconcerting News from "Our, the American People's" media outlets on Freedom and democracy in America. Disconcerting to those who are ardent anti-Trump detractors, not disconcerting to those who are ardent Trump/MAGA supporters intending for Trump/Maga and Department Of Government Efficiency (DOGE) to clean up America's bloated and wasteful federal government.

HOW DO YOU SHOW THAT YOU ARE...

EASILY MANIPULATED BY THE MEDIA AND CAN'T THINK FOR YOURSELF?

Disconcerting News Centers On President Donald J. Trump Administration to, allegedly, keep “Us, the American People” from voting for our candidates of choice by transforming America’s political system into a single-party system. Transformation to a single-party system would, reportedly, assure there will be no chance for democrat party candidates to win elections ever. Oligarchy government.

“We, the American People” are pitifully gullible to think there are not, nor will be, people out to exert force over everyone else. History attests, We are, as well, foolish to think despotic-minded people will not use positional authority to make their personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB) lawfully compulsory whenever they can sway American voters greater government power is vital to freedom.

MANIPULATION

You owe it to yourself to at least question who is profiting from the anger they so desperately want you to feel.

imgflip.com

Exactly How President Donald J. Trump and cohort will pull off transforming American to take election power from “Us, the American People,” as media report is being planned, is unclear. Given we are inclined to obey government, rather than have government obey us, there is more than a risk despotic-minded manipulators would conspire to pull wool over our eyes, freedom from our grasp.

Comparison of Single Motherhood by Race in the U.S.
Other / Not Single (40%)

"Our, the American People's" media has an article on judicial power worth pondering, given it, in essence, can rule all other courts powerless. Article focuses on a legal concept known as universal injunction. Universal injunction concept amounts to court exercising its supposed authority to halt someone or something on a nationwide basis. It's also frequently referred to as a national injunction.

"It is difficult to free fools from the chains they revere."

~ Voltaire

References Referenced Indicate Universal/national injunctions are typically used to forestall implementation of a federal government measure. Since federal legislative and judicial branches have no implementation authority per se, universal/national injunctions are used to impede federal executive branch action. Federal executive branch initiatives currently affected would include deportation.

"It is clear that the individual who persecutes a man, his brother, because he is not of the same opinion, is a monster."

~ Voltaire

"We, the American People" are, doubtless, divided when it comes to universal/national injunctions. Federal judges are appointed, thus, if not politically biased in actuality, are seen as politically biased. Add personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB) to perceived political bias used by courts in trying cases, and America's court system has an inherent credibility problem. Unlike court decisions evidence.

"So long as the people do not care to exercise their freedom, those who wish to tyrannize will do so; for tyrants are active and ardent, and will devote themselves in the name of any number of gods, religious and otherwise, to put shackles upon sleeping men."

~ Voltaire

I WAS RECENTLY ASKED IF I LIKED HAVING A RACIST PRESIDENT

President Donald J. Trump's Administration's opposition to universal/national injunctions echo some professorial opinions universal/national injunctions impair federal executive branch officials from exercising their authority. Add PAVB into executive versus court level deliberation, there is cause for "Us, the American People" to pause and reconsider judicial authority in lite of triumvirate government.

"The true character of liberty is independence, maintained by force."

There's several ways to finish this statement.

When all else fails...

... read the directions

...go back to the drawing board

...go back to the basic fundamentals

...go back to the basics of life

...or quit

The one thing We the People cannot do is, when all else fails, we cannot quit; we must never give up our Liberty.

America seems to be failing economically, our justice system has become two-tiered and failing We the People. We're in high alert regarding our national security because of this administrations' refusal to enforce our immigration laws and allowed our borders to be open! America's education system is failing to educate our children and students. We are no longer an independent people and our nation is losing it's sovereignty. Mega corporations have been allowed to monopolize and squeeze out legitimate American independent businesses. Our military has been weakened. The Biden administration looks like the Keystone Cops on the world stage. America, a once powerful and prosperous nation is being diminished to a third world country status.

These failures are happening because “some people decided to do something!” President Obama promised to fundamentally change America, and he began leading America in a downward trend. Installed President Biden has brought back the failing and treasonous policies of Barrack Hussein Obama. The Democrat Party is greatly to blame but we cannot allow them to take all the credit for the failures of this nation, the Republican Party too has led America into an oligarchy form of government and are assisting the takedown of We the People. Together, these political parties are leading Americans down a socialist rabbit hole and they are legislatively burrowing us deeper and deeper into tyranny.

When all else fails, read the directions!

The directions would be our Constitution! I would dare to say that most Americans are not familiar with our Constitution and therefore, when congress tramples on our rights, we are mostly unaware. We like to quote the First; Freedom of religion and speech, and Second Amendments; the right to keep and bear arms, and even the Fifth Amendment; the right to remain silent, however, outside of those, Americans are not savvy regarding our rights and the true beauty of our Constitutional Republic.

We the People are the ones who are to “govern the governors.” We don’t have elections to place a privileged group of people above us and reign over us, they are there to serve We the People and stand in the gap between Liberty and Tyranny. The Constitution is a contract between us and the elected; it is to limit their powers so that they will not obstruct our basic rights.

When all else fails, go back to the drawing board!

This is not necessary; our Constitution was created in such a way that it is sufficient for now and for the future. It is not a living breathing document it is a contract which protects the inalienable rights of Americans, while it lines out the procedures for governing. Through the years there have been numerous amendments added to it, but it surely needs no more! The failures of our governance is because those who are supposed to be following the contract have deviated from the contract and passed “pretend legislation” which does not secure our rights and does not follow the Constitution.

Grievance #13 from the Declaration of Independence states:

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation."

With that being said:

When all else fails, we must return to the fundamentals.

For a long time, congress has practiced legislating in such a manner as to confuse the people. Members of Congress do not read their own legislation.

James Madison warned us of such behavior: It will be of little avail to the people, that the laws are made by men of their own choice, if the laws be so voluminous that they cannot be read, or so incoherent that they cannot be understood; if they be repealed or revised before they are promulgated, or undergo such incessant changes that no man, who knows what the law is to-day, can guess what it will be to-morrow. Law is defined to be a rule of action; but how can that be a rule, which is little known, and less fixed?

When we return to the documents of old, we can see that our Founding Fathers were experiencing much of the same tyrannical ways under the King. It would appear that many of them knew and understood the nature of leaders is to abuse power.

Today our legislators argue not about securing our Liberty but they “debate” more about who will get the money for this or for that. They have completely lost or ignored the original intent of our Constitutional Republic and it would seem they also ignore the depth of the message of our Declaration of Independence. Do not believe that either of these documents are outdated and not relevant for today!

If we are to stop the failures of our political system we must go back to the directions and read them and apply them to our nation today. As Thomas Jefferson said, When once a Republic is corrupted, there is no possibility of remedying any of the growing evils but by removing the corruption and restoring its lost principles; every other correction is either useless or a new evil.

In order for us to restore the lost principles, we must go back and read the directions!

Who will govern the governors? It is the duty of We the People to hold our officials (the governors) accountable... we need to return to the principles of our founding documents and Bring America Home®.

Advocates of Honest Judiciaries,

Dear Professor Gardner, Wilmer Cutler, Perkins Coie, Susman
Godfrey, Jenner & Block, Harvard, lawyers, law firms, universities, and Advocates,‡

1. This is a proposal to join forces to apply Professor Gardner's article District Court en bancs[1] in a case pending in the U.S. District Court, SDNY, concerning healthcare insurers and other medical services and equipment providers' plotting and committing with the complicity of Medicare abusive insurance claims evasive "delay, deny, defend" tactics:

et al. [including many of the top officers of the Medicare Appeals Council and the Office of Medicare Hearings and Appeals (OMHA)]; docket no. 24-cv-9778-JAV;
filed in U.S. District Court, SDNY, on 16 December 2024.

>complaint at SDNY:111[2]

2. I cited you, Prof. Gardner, and your article in my April 11 motion[3], which requests en banc review. With your amicus curiae[see endnote 4] support of it, you can capitalize on the enormous research and writing effort that you must have invested in your article.

3. Wilmer Cutler[5], Perkins Coie[6], Susman Godfrey[7], Jenner & Block[8], Harvard[9], and the lawyers, law firms, universities, and Advocates challenging the Trump administration are invited to join in one amicus brief or write their own amicus to benefit from the greater use of district court en bancs.

District of Columbia live database

4. Indeed, my motion was addressed to SDNY Chief Judge Laura Taylor Swain to request that she convene her district court en banc to resolve the conflict between an order of hers in my case and a subsequent one of the currently assigned judge, i.e., J. Annette A. Vargas; and decide other issues of public interest in these turbulent judicial times, e.g., whether:

a. a decision of a district court en banc, convened on a party's or the judges' motion, can more effectively persuade the public and a court of appeals than a decision of a single judge. If so, it would better resist arbitrary and capricious attacks by the current administration;

b. access to justice can become 'speedier and more inexpensive' in line with the purpose for the FRCP set forth in Rule 1[10] through review by a district court en banc compared with an appeal to an appeals court;

c. the sovereign and judicial immunity doctrines violate Articles II §4 and III §1; and Amendments XIV §1 and V of the Constitution, which provide for holding all officers of the United States, including those of the Executive branch and all judges, accountable so that against those officers We the People can secure "the equal protection of the laws" instead of being at the mercy of officers who arrogate to themselves an unconstitutionally superior place: Above the Law;

d. district court en bancs are mechanisms for judges to police themselves so that they can deter, detect, and correct their fellow judges' abuse of discretion/power or incompetence;

e. characterizing mine as a test case in defense of civil rights and in the public interest, so it will benefit the 67.3 million[11] old, sick, and disabled insureds of Medicare, and the additional millions of non-Medicare insureds, the overwhelming majority of all of whom lack the physical and emotional stamina and knowledge of the law needed to defend their rights individually, e.g., through four levels of administrative appeals and climb to the fifth level of judicial review in a federal district court, never mind appealing to a circuit court;

f. such characterization will induce law, journalism, and IT/AI professionals as well as professors and students to use my case to expose providers of healthcare insurance, other services, and equipment who commit “delay, deny, defend” tactics, and those who cover for them.

5. It is in the same SDNY district court that federal criminal charges seeking the death penalty have been brought against Luigi Mangione for allegedly murdering UnitedHealthcare CEO Brian Thompson in NYC last December 4. Given the overwhelming public support for Mr. Mangione and the public outrage at those tactics, it is reasonable to expect that his trial will attract the national and international media.

6. As a result, this is the most opportune time to ask law firms, universities, and the media to investigate how district court en bancs can launch the reform of the judiciary by providing a speedier, affordable, and meaningful level of judicial review of cases, such as healthcare cases, where time is of the essence but insurers have an interest in dragging out the case until the insured is dead or too weak to press their claim anymore.

7. Courts of appeals do not provide that kind of review because they can dispose of appeals perfunctorily in reliance on the fact that the Supreme Court grants barely 1.5% of certiorari petitions.^[12] Such unaccountability allows riskless abuse of power by healthcare insurers and providers, among others, and an individual judge presiding over a case.

8. We can contribute to the wider use of district court en bancs by making presentations thereon at law, journalism, and IT/AI schools, beginning with our local ones and our alma maters, as well as many other public interest entities.

9. At those presentations, we will propose concrete actions that the audience can undertake to expose the abusers, such as press releases, the publication of articles, press conferences, interviews, podcasts, townhall meetings, rallies; etc.

10. Moreover, we will propose UNPRECEDENTED CITIZENS HEARINGS.

a. The citizens hearings will be held by media outlets and universities at their stations and auditoriums during the first semester of an academic year^[13].

b. They will afford people the opportunity to tell their story^[14] of the abuse of power that they have suffered or witnessed.

c. They will allow people throughout the country to tell and listen to the stories in person and online.

d. The more stories are told and heard, the more people will be informed about the abuse of power and become outraged. Ever more will scream, "That happened to Me-Too!" They will be driven to ask to be allowed to tell their stories to vent that fire that is burning in their soul: the constant cry for justice and compensation^{2 >} [SDNY:156§L]. Nothing oppresses the soul more harshly and persistently than the feeling of having been or being abused. The informed and outraged people will thus energize another self-reinforcing cycle of citizens hearings.

e. During the second academic semester[15], the findings of the hearings will be established and the preparation undertaken for their presentation near the end of the semester at the first-ever national conference on abuse of power. It will be held simultaneously at several interconnected universities and news media networks.

f. At that conference, the findings of the citizens hearings will be presented in speeches, panel discussions, and the first edition of the Annual Report on Unaccountability and Abuse of Power in America.

g. The citizens hearings will be a rich source of materials for the proposed multidisciplinary summer internships of students.

h. There will also be offered semester-long multidisciplinary clinics for academic credit. Students will learn, among other things:

- 1) administrative law;
- 2) agency and social data gathering;
- 3) news gathering and reporting;
- 4) public relations and image managing;
- 5) the application of IT/AI to audit massive amounts of writings, speeches, and footage to detect patterns of unlawful meeting of the minds and coordinated abusive conduct;
- 6) legislative drafting;
- 7) lobbying;
- 8) development and leadership of a national, nonpartisan Me-Too!-like civic movement for civil rights, accountability, liability, and reform;

9) the setting up of a new type of practice for handling a flood of motions to vacate decisions, remand for a new trial, and obtain compensation, and staging a supporting campaign of mass communication and demonstrations. This practice can be lucrative and build national name recognition for the practitioners;

10) working as a team inside an institution and among institutions in one or several states under the guidance of an editor or a lead attorney; etc.

i. In addition, the students will learn to do what abusees cannot do individually: prepare and initiate non-class aggregate actions and class actions, and multidistrict litigation in the public interest of exposing the nature, extent, and gravity of abuse of power by a big multistate entity[16] and collectively demanding compensation.

j. Students will gain unique hands-on experience that will impress job recruiters or enable them to open multidisciplinary boutiques upon graduation. Their success can build up the reputation of their schools and increase admission applications and enrollment of better qualified applicants.

k. The citizens hearings' findings of abuse of power coordinated and committed as institutionalized modus operandi should sufficiently inform and outrage the public to compel politicians, lest they be primaried or voted out of, or not into, office, to legislate transparency, accountability, and liability for, e.g., the healthcare industry.

L. The unprecedented citizens hearings have the potential for becoming a rallying point for abusees and reformers. They can set in motion the joint development of academe and the media as a powerhouse that can hold accountable and liable private and public entities so big that We the People separated into millions of individuals cannot fight.[16]

m. The citizens hearings can lead to the creation of the Institute of Unaccountability Reporting and Reform Advocacy, to be attached to a preeminent university or news network, and engaged in research, publishing, classroom and public education, consulting, litigation, lobbying, etc.

11. This proposal is realistic: multistate law firms from several states have represented Harvard; hundreds of universities as well as professors have added their names and efforts to challenge Trump administration executive orders; on April 5 over 1,200 demonstrations in all 50 states were reportedly held in communities across the country to protest Trump administration actions[17] and more have been held every Saturday since then[18]; etc.
