"The whole history of the progress of human liberty shows that all concessions yet made to her august claims have been born of earnest struggle. If there is no struggle, there is no progress. Those who profess to favor freedom, and yet deprecate agitation, are men who want crops without plowing up the ground, they want rain without thunder and lightning. They want the ocean without the awful roar of its many waters."

Media Has An Article In Circulation talking about Pope Leo XIV's net worth. Stands to reason . Inquiring minds would, most assuredly, want to know Pope Leo XIV's net worth. Inquiring minds, if their inquiring urge is strong enough, will have to dig further. Article in circulation alludes to some of His Holiness monthly earnings, and addresses his future retirement Vatican City accommodations.

"The limits of tyrants are prescribed by the endurance of those whom they oppress."

~ Frederick Douglass

Inquiring Minds Inclined To Expand their inquiry to financial well-being of upper Catholic Church hierarchy will find, not unexpectedly, Church leaders are not on starvation's brink. Further inquiry into Catholic Church financial well-being, globally, reveals a net worth of a rather successful enterprise. "We, the American People," as wage earners, on average, have closely comparable compensation.

"The limitation of tyrants is the endurance of those they oppose."

~ Frederick Douglass

For They Who Might Be Inclined to call for Catholicism's net worth to be distributed among its needy, divided evenly every Catholic worldwide would get somewhere right about $22.22. Once. Whereafter, Catholic Church net worth would be somewhere right around $0.0. Bone dry coffers. No more investment equity. Might be tough getting petrol for Pope Leo XIV's bullet-proof Pope Mobile.

"The history of government management of money has, except for a few short happy periods, been one of incessant fraud and deception."

~ Fredrich von Hayek

Those Of "Us, the American People" who might believe government should confiscate wealthy people's wealth for those of us who are needy, would do well to do some basic arithmetic and figure how many dollars every American would get from wealthy people's wealth redistributed evenly. Once. We'd be fools to think wealthy people would not learn quickly, once bitten, twice shy. And be shy.

"The system of private property is the most important guaranty of freedom, not only for those who own property, but scarcely less for those who do not."

~ Freidrich von Hayek

People Intending To Live In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to remain in office if they break their word to their constituents. They dismiss and replace them summarily.

"Our, the America People's" are, contrary to how some observers might observe how church and state are to stay out of each other's business, are deeply involved in church affairs, when such affairs center state's foremost concern – money. Specifically, tax money. Then, our courts, with near certainty, will skew decisions to benefit state coffers. And, so doing, declare no state meddling in matters of Faith.

"But how is this legal plunder to be identified? Quite simply. See if the law takes from some persons what belongs to them and gives it to the other persons to whom it doesn't belong. "

~ Frederic Bastiat

"We, the American People" could, if we were willing to exert our clout as a sovereign citizenry, clean up corruption in government's clever confiscation tool, selective, arbitrary, and discriminatory legislation, taxation, and regulation (SAADLT&R). SADLT&R empowers government to sherry pick nearly at will as to who shall pay for government projects and programs, and who shall not have to pay.

"Life, liberty, and property do not exist because men have made laws. On the contrary, it was the fact that life, liberty, and property existed beforehand that caused men to make laws in the first place."

SADLT&R's Most Powerful Confiscation Implement is direct taxation. Direct taxation enables government officials to collect sums of money from people for no reason other than people own property (wealth). It would be smart for "Us, the American People" to ban direct taxation in all its forms. Do away with direct taxation, and force government to do with tax revenue raised from commerce taxes.

TRUMP LOOKING TO REDIRECT $3 BILLION IN HARVARD GRANTS TO U.S. TRADE SCHOOLS

Anyone Who Knows Anything About Taxation knows all taxes levied for any reason are paid, directly or indirectly, by consumers. Doing away with direct taxation in favor of commerce taxes puts consumers in charge of taxes by shopping for their buck's best bang. Forcing all taxing authority to local levels would mean local legislators would have to convince voters refusing tax hikes would mean life's end.

"The time to guard against corruption and tyranny is before they shall have gotten hold of us. It is better to keep the wolf out of the fold than to trust to drawing his teeth and talons after he shall have entered." Thomas Jefferson Okay, we might be just a little late on that one Mr. Jefferson.

If you follow my Substack, or my radio program, you know that I love to lean on the words of our Founding Fathers. Their wisdom, their bravery, and their persistence led to our Liberty. However, as decades turned to centuries, and our nation grew into a nation known as the land of opportunity and prosperity, We the People became comfortable and complacent. We lacked appreciation for the many freedoms we enjoy, forgetting the sacrifices of those who came before us. We no longer seem to understand the full meaning of “Independence.”

“Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must, like men, undergo the fatigues of supporting it.” Thomas Paine

I don't know about you, but I haven't suffered much for Liberty lately.

Tough Love! It's time that We the People practiced some tough love for our Liberty. It's never too late, but the longer we wait the more difficult the restoration of our great Constitutional Republic will be.

“When once a Republic is corrupted, there is no possibility of remedying any of the growing evils but by removing the corruption and restoring its lost principles; every other correction is either useless or a new evil.” Thomas Jefferson

In the last few decades, we've seen a lot of growing evil in America.

Removing the corruption! This quote is one of the most important and consequential instructions for our time. It's a bit challenging when it states, “Remove the corruption.” How can we possibly remove the corruption? In my last several Substacks I've addressed the topic, but I think we all know we have to elect honest men and women of extreme integrity and those who value Liberty more than their own personal prosperity. The words from John Adams declaring that our Constitution was made for a moral and religious people are also explanatory regarding the type of governing America was to practice and enjoy.

While many people find history boring, it is necessary to know history in order to build from the mistakes or the successes of our past.

“When the past no longer illuminates the future, the spirit walks in darkness.” Alexis de Tocqueville

The process of deconstruction is the altering or removing of America's history, changing our culture and destroying the very Foundation of our nation.

How can the past illuminate the future? Like any project, we learn from our mistakes, and we build on our successes. There is a human element to life, as these words explain the cycle of Liberty. “From bondage to spiritual faith; from spiritual faith to great courage; from courage to liberty; from liberty to abundance; from abundance to selfishness; from selfishness to complacency; from complacency to apathy; from apathy to dependency; from dependency back into bondage.” Alexander Fraser Tytler

When we recognize our place in this cycle explained by Tytler, We the People can begin restoring our Liberty in America. We've become dependent on our government, placing us all in bondage. Government agencies demand licenses and permits for things that were once a part of our freedoms in America. Government now sees our Rights as privileges they may or may not allow us to enjoy...or we must pay to enjoy them.

It's Never Too Late!

Liberty is always in the hands of the People, but first it must be a longing and a lust within their hearts. We must also acknowledge that our rights come from God... not from government. “We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness...”

“The greatness of America lies not in being more enlightened than any other nation, but rather in her ability to repair her faults.” Alexis de Tocqueville

History is vital to Liberty! Learning from the mistakes and successes of our Founding Fathers will help us to secure such blessings for our own Posterity...

our children, grandchildren and all the future generations of the United States of America.

It's Never Too Late!

When we look back in the history and use the wisdom of the words of the great men who went before us, We the People can rise up and Bring America Home©

"The politician attempts to remedy the evil by increasing the very thing that caused the evil in the first place: legal plunder."

~ Frederic Bastiat

"We, the American People," if we hold America's federal (U.S./National) Constitution to be litigation's last summit of appeal, are, given we are loyal to Constitutional precepts and principles, stand behind America's Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS) decisions, even when SCOTUS decisions overturn sustained lower-court decisions. SCOTUS is America's appeal pinnacle. Save a last resort.

"And now that the legislators and do gooders have futilely inflicted so many systems upon society, may they finally end where they should have begun: May they reject all systems. And try liberty."

~ Frederic Bastiat

"Our, the American People's" court decisions are meaningless, should America's law enforcement arm not act on court decisions. Similarly, America's SCOTUS decisions have no guarantee they will be sustained in perpetuity. Roe v Wade exemplifies; it stood for near a half century, when, America's sitting SCOTUS acted to make Roe v Wade a commonwealth/state, not federal, jurisdictional concern.

"It is indeed a singular thing that people wish to pass laws to nullify the disagreeable consequences that the law of responsibility entails. Will they never realize that they do not eliminate these consequences but merely pass them along to other people? The result is one injustice the more and one moral the less."

~ Frederic Bastiat

There Is Nothing To Keep America's three, coequal branch, government system from being in perpetual circles when legislative, executive, and judicial branches do not see eye-to-eye. In theory, disputed laws can be resolved by legislative action to rescind or amend. America's elections, however, put people in all branches with varying personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB). No permanence.

"Socialism, like the ancient ideas from which it springs, confuses the distinction between government and society. As a result of this, every time we object to a thing being done by government, the socialists conclude that we object to its being done at all."

~ Frederic Bastiat

It Might Be Possible For "Us, the American People" to introduce some lasting predictability in legislative-judicial-executive behavior, were it not for our proclivity to allow election winners to alter societal norms with legislative-executive-judicial action election-to-election. Short of some form of divine intervention, we may face government instability for ages to come. We are primarily at odds.

"I know no class of my fellowmen, however just, enlightened, and humane, which can be wisely and safely trusted absolutely with the liberties of any other class."
