"The common denominator in all government activity is the use of force: Government either forces you to do things, forces you not to do things, or forces you to pay for things."
~ Doug Newman

One Of "Our, the American People's" principal media outlet circulated an article with cover statement saying war between America's Congress and America's White House is on. Article maintains while President Donald J. Trump has talked about working with democrats, democrats are torn between cooperation and investigating White House operatives, Trump allies, and corporate America.

"Our current philosophy of government may be summarized six words: If it sounds good, do it."
~ Doug Newman

Given America Voted Congressional GOP Majorities out in Election 2026, "We, the American People" could be said to line up expecting President Donald J. to cooperate with Congress, rather than vice versa. Given legislators, chief government executives, and judges apply their personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB) to doing their jobs, we can expect Congress will vote, President Donald J. will veto.

"All the fiery rhetoric of the Founders was directed at a "tyrant" who taxed his subjects at a rate of about three percent. Today, we in "the land of the free" are taxed at about 50 percent when you add federal, state, and local taxes. What kind of government would do this? A dictatorship would."
~ Doug Newman

Various Media Outlets Have Reported Potential Congressional House of Representatives speaker candidate, Robert Garcia, has told President Donald J. Trump to "lawyer up." Garcia's remark is taken to mean there will be a flurry of investigations coming to expose and prosecute misconduct by White House personnel, President Trunp, and America's big business. Questionable taxpayer money use.

“Electing even a few Libertarians to a governing board, is akin to having a designated driver in a roomful of drunks.”
~ Doug Klippel

America’s Governmental Institutions Are Subject to PAVB bias as legislators, chief government executives, and our judiciary bring justice to bear. It is not unreasonable to say legislators, chief government executives and judges would, if they could, make their PAVB lawfully compulsory. It is up to “Us, the American People,” as a sovereign citizenry, to prevent PAVB-driven government.

“If the government can’t keep drugs away from inmates who are locked in steel cages, surrounded by barbed wire, watched by armed guards, drug-tested, strip-searched, X-rayed, and videotaped – how can it possibly stop the flow of drugs to an entire nation?”

"Our, the American People's" media has an article in circulation pointing out how Election 2026 winning democrats are not standing by voter interests, Instead, democrats, who now are majority legislative voters in both Congressional senate and House of Representatives may squander their legislative opportunity by ignoring their Election 2026 mandate and putting efforts into gun control.

“Truth is not determined by majority vote.”
~ Doug Gwyn

Article In Question Tells”:Us, the American People” Election 2026 voters did not consider gun control a major concern (11% of voters spotlit gun control), but democrats are still trying to make gun control a voter concern as Election 2028 campaigning gets an early start. Voters were said to be 75% worried over America’s poor economic state, followed by government corruption as their prime disquiets.

“If you can’t answer a man’s argument, all is not lost; you can still call him vile names.”
~ Elbert Hubbard

"We, the American People," if we have paid attention to recorded history, know weapon bans and confiscation are favorite tactics to minimize effective dissent from ordinary people. Article in questions points out democrats, increasingly, are gun owners who no less oppose gun control than do other gun owners. Democrats favoring gun control try making inroads ‘mild’ with measures like registration.

“If you live in a country run by committee, be on the committee.”
~ Graham Summer

Self-Defense Is A Priority for gun owners. There should be no place where people's self-defense is set aside because government is worried law and order would be at risk. Gun control advocates draw attention to private gun ownership danger when mass shootings occur, particularly mass shootings where children are killed. Article has it winning democrats should capitalize on voters' priorities.

I have grown quite weary of listening to all the analogies of last week's election losses and wins. The expert pundits I'm certain know more than me, but I feel there is much missed; perhaps intentionally. The hard cold truth of it all... we lost our Constitutional Republic long ago. Yes, we have remnants and rags of its existence, but something is very wrong, and we all know that!

Perhaps America's modern government has become that which George Washington prophesied, "Government is not reason; it is not eloquence. It is force*. And force, like fire, is a dangerous servant and a* fearful master."

We are not and never were a democracy, but a Constitutional Republic… Though I know not the date and time upon which it happened, I do know that our two-party system became a monopoly over We the People. It is their own power for which they work, and not for the preservation of our Liberty. They have spent us into an unsustainable debt, and they have seized or compromised most of our rights; ignoring others altogether.

When I sat down to write this week; my words became more limerick and rhyme as I tapped out my thoughts.

The Reality Of Our Lost Liberty

While many of us do not agree
On everything politically,
A remnant of Americans are desperate to unravel
Why our rights now rest upon an unelected gavel.

Most can agree that something is amiss,
In fact all things are quite erroneous!
Our nation today bears no resemblance
To the America that fought and won its Independence.

The parody of our governing depravity
Is the reality of our lost Liberty!
The hard cold reality of America today, is that
Our Constitutional Republic is broken and cracked.

They try to tell us that it's all quite complicated,

The truth is our inalienable rights have been confiscated.
The words of our Constitution are being twisted and abused,
We are now subjects to government, and being used.

Through chaos and violence, we are controlled,
Daily we watch the violence and corruption unfold.
Brokenness dwells in every departmental corner.
Our rights have been subverted; the deep state is their owner!

We speak of freedom and Liberty
But in reality we're living in tyranny.
The tyrants are many; most virtually unseen,
Bureaucrats mandating as an oligarchy.

Hired not elected, they eat out our substance.
We do not know them, and they care not of us.
I don't know which abuse came first,
Or which infringement is the worst...

Our speech is restricted, our courts are conflicted,
Gun rights so compromised, it brings us to shame.
Our Land and our property, they claim to maintain.
And what of our privacy; our homes and our papers?
Judge approved FISA warrants enable strange capers.

A speedy trial no longer exists,
And the high cost of it all, does justice restrict.
The lust and love of lawfare replaced rule of law,
But justice perverted, is no justice at all.

What is the answer? We hang our heads in shame.
For most of these grievances, we have ourselves to blame.
The answer is a quick reality check,

Get things back in order, we must do it quick.

Our Founding Documents are not just for framing.

Our rights are written but we must do the claiming.

The restrictions within are not for you and me.

They were concisely composed to constrain tyranny.

Petition your grievances and never stop,

Put your rights to action and never give up!

The egregious must be punished and held to account,

They're not to be trusted, their crimes too numerous to count.

Our Independence we must reclaim...

Liberty is not a political game.

Our children's future will be usurped

By unscrupulous leaders who for themselves do serve.

Eternal vigilance is the cost of Liberty; It is a heavy load!

We must be the patriots who stand guard and Bring America Home©

"Our, the American People's" media ran a recent (November 16th) article with perplexing Election 2026 exit poll info. Exit poll voters in article were said to be largely not in favor of democrats yet voted for them. A political paragon and voting booth paradox. Polls do not always reflect reality. Several reasons, one being opinion pollsters tend to structure poll questions to back up pollster theories.

"Mystical references to "society" and its programs to "help" may warm the hearts of the gullible, but what it really means is putting more power in the hands of bureaucrats."
~ Thomas Sowell

"We, the American People" could, if we're willing to put in time and effort, make polling and elections of little consequence. If we. a sovereign citizenry, took time and trouble to be proactive sovereign citizens, we could exert our self-governing capacity to cull unnecessary government action so who happens to fill any given official position would make little to no difference in how we live our lives.

"We don't have a budget crisis. We have a spending crisis."
~ Jonathan Hill

America's Proclivity For Switching legislative majorities makes fertile ground for election winners to alter selective, arbitrary, and discriminatory legislation, taxation and regulation (SADLT&R) to fit their ideological aims by making their personal attitudes, and beliefs (PAVB) lawfully compulsory. PAVB-driven SADLT&R lets striving legislators, chief government executives and judges have more power.

"Make happy those who are near, and those who are far will come."
~ Chinese proverb

When Legislators, Government Executives and judges have greater power to make their PAVB-driven SADLT&R lawfully compulsory, people who have differing PAVB can be combative. Law comes down favoring those whose PAVB more closely favor PAVB held by officialdom. Remedy is to minimize jurisdictional power held by officialdom where possible to disallow government oversight.

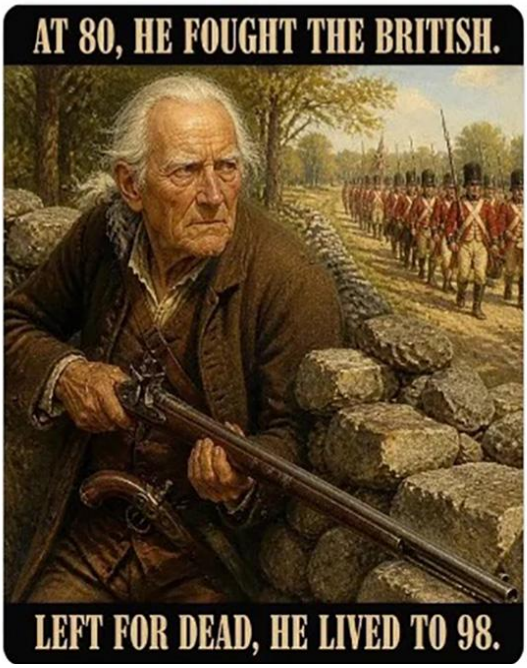

“There is a word sweeter than mother, home or heaven. That word is liberty.”
~ Epitaph of Matilda Joslyn Gage\

He was 80 years old when the British army marched past his farm. He grabbed his musket... and hid behind a stone wall. Alone. April 19, 1775. The first day of the American Revolution. After the fighting at Lexington and Concord, thousands of British soldiers were marching back to Boston, straight through the little town of Menotomy, Massachusetts.

Most men his age would have locked the door and stayed inside. Not Samuel Whittemore. He had fought in wars decades earlier. And he wasn't done yet. He loaded his musket, crouched behind a stone wall, and waited. When the redcoats came close, he fired. One British soldier fell. Then he pulled out two dueling pistols. Another soldier fell. A third was mortally wounded.

Then the British reached him. He drew his sword. They shot him in the face. They stabbed him with bayonets again and again. Then they left the old man lying in a pool of blood. Dead ... they thought. When American colonists found him, he was still alive. And he was trying to reload his musket.

They carried him to a doctor. The doctor said there was no hope. Samuel Whittemore didn't listen. He survived. He lived another 18 years, and died in 1793 at the age of 98. Today, a monument stands near the spot where an 80-year-old farmer took on the British army by himself.

People Committed To Living In Liberty do not allow legislators – or other public officials within These United States of America, to cause any citizen to be drawn into an obligation to assume responsibility for public debt for reasons other than to defend these United States. They prohibit government from putting them at financial risk.
