“Our, the American People’s” Judiciary, arguably, is responsible for much of our socio-economic discontent. Ultimately, it is our (a sovereign citizenry’s) task to keep an objective rein on our courts. It is within our purview, as a sovereign citizenry, to keep courts from making decisions on matters not applicable to America’s society as a whole, or, matters where decisions favor some groups over others.

 PATRIOTPOST.US: OBJECTIVE AND UNCENSORED ANALYSIS

 PATRIOTPOST.US: THE BEST HUMOR, MEMES, & CARTOONS

Split Court Decisions Are Indicative of subjectivity in America's courts. Subjectivity arises when judges base findings on their personal attitudes, values, and beliefs (PAVB) applied to interpretation of law and prior court opinions. Infusing PAVB into judicial decisions introduces bias. Judicial bias undermines fairness, neutrality, and jurisprudence objectivity for “Us, the American People.”

“Liberty is always dangerous, but it is the safest thing we have.”

~ Harry Emerson Fosdick

It Takes No Post-Graduate Level research or investigation to determine judicial standards are all but non-existent. Laws, all said and done, are products of someone's PAVB. "We, the American People," in our predisposition for idealism, might think of laws as having much introspective forethought before our legislators pass them, and they are imposed by our chief government executives. They are force.

"The state in which the rulers are the most reluctant to govern is always the best and most quietly governed; and the state in which they are the most eager, the worst."

Like Near All, If Not All, Government initiatives, it is up to "Us, the American People," as sovereign citizens, to prevent government initiatives to be instruments of despotism. Despots take away choice; laws are tools tyrants use to take away choice. Dissenting judiciary members who lambast their fellow judges are examples of how court decisions are reflections of court jurists' dissimilar PAVB.

Deception is the tool.

There's A Federal Judge who has it “Our, the American People’s” Lone Star State may not make a law requiring

My old boss, Derry Brownfield, who was the founder of The Brownfield Network, which you'd only recognize if you were in agriculture in the Midwest, used to say that "they" can't bring the other nations up to American standards, so they have to bring America down to third-world standards. It does seem as if that's what's happening. Derry used to call it, "A race to the bottom." He was one of the best at connecting the dots of how legislature and trade policies were going to impact American agriculture. The American farmer, producer and rancher are usually on the bottom of the totem pole when it comes to "legislative policies" and decisions in DC.

For many decades, America has been leaning on government, while forgetting our individuality and independence. The Farm Bill is now a welfare bill and has very little to do with protecting agriculture in America. SNAP is a great example of a "bill gone bad." I'm not opposed to helping folks through hard times or helping those who cannot help themselves, but SNAP has turned into a massive fraud of abuse and theft. The shutdown revealed massive fraud and now Secretary Rollins said people are going to have to reapply. Shouldn't they reapply every year?

All the government social programs, welfare, government subsidies for this or for that, as well as taxes on top of taxes, are sad realities that America has been heading down the socialist path for a very long time. We can no longer afford ourselves! With each new brilliant idea to help make our lives better, the government takes more from our paychecks...and they still don't have enough to "foot the bills" that congress continues to pass. America's poorly run departments of bureaucracy misuse and abuse our tax dollars. There is nothing that government manages that is efficient or fraud-free. Socialism, for which bureaucracy is a major part, always fails the people but enriches the government officials.

I recently watched a segment of Bill Maher's show. He went on a rant to his democrat friends attempting to warn them of the "ways" of Zohran Mamdani's socialism.

Maher said, "We've run this experiment many times, and the results are always obvious," Then as he looked directly into the camera (for dramatic effect ya know) "Democrats must recognize that Zohran Mamdani is the future of the party. Unfortunately, it's the Republican Party." He continued, "Here's capitalist South Korea at night from space," Maher presented, showing a country lit up and thriving. "Here's socialist North Korea," he followed, with the map pitch dark. "*Yeah. In 1990, Venezuela was wealthier than Poland. But then Poland, finally free of Soviet style economics, went all in on capitalism and now their economy is as big as Japan and people there have high wages, low inflation, cars, vacations, homes. Meanwhile, Venezuela traded capitalism for Hugo Chavez's socialism for the 21st century, which turned out to be like socialism in the last century or any century, a *blankidy-blank mess. (my word inserted for Bill's foul language) It turned one of Latin America's richest countries into one of its poorest. Low wages, high inflation, shortages, outages, 8 million people fleeing. If you think New York can somehow reinvent this wheel, you're in for a rude awakening."

He's correct, yet he's still pulling for the democrats and more government programs; again, I believe it is a race to the bottom. Why else would so many politicians and people be against "Making America Great Again?"

With each new social program, government mandate, regulation, demand for license, fees, and permits, our nation goes a little further down that rabbit hole of socialism... "race to the bottom."

Democracy is just one step down to socialism; socialism is one step down to communism, which is one step down to Marxism, and Marxism is the bottom: Tyranny!

I'm including here Derry Brownfield's op-ed. He wrote this in May of 2003. We no longer have NAFTA and GATT, and Rush Limbaugh is no longer with us, but you can still connect the dots...

Upgrade to paid

RACE TO THE BOTTOM

By Derry Brownfield - May 19, 2003

We were told that GATT and NAFTA were going to be the salvation of the world. Trade barriers were to be removed and farm prices would improve, not only in the United States but around the world. Our exports would increase, higher income would prevail and the entire world would be a much better place in which to live. I was listening to talk radio when a caller tried to explain to Rush Limbaugh how disastrous the "giant sucking sound" would be. Rush cut the caller short by saying that his advisers who were economists told him that NAFTA was a good thing for our country. Since that time jobs have left America and incomes have fallen. Farm prices have not improved and farmers continue to be forced off the land. Were our leaders really that stupid to believe globalization was going to be an asset to Americans?

I believe many of the farm publications and commodity organizations did think global markets were the coming thing and would benefit our nation's economy. They bought into the lies that had been lavished upon them by the oneworlders in charge of destroying our national sovereignty. Editorials were printed explaining how farmers and ranchers would profit from these global markets and many unsuspecting farmers, businessmen and even bankers fell for these diabolical plans.

At first it was only the menial jobs that moved to Mexico and China. Jobs, that our hard working, red-blooded Americans didn't want to perform in the first place. Then the auto manufacturers began moving their automotive plants out of the country. The United Auto Workers (UAW) were without jobs. The textile business was transferred to China and our food products (fruit, vegetables and meat) began flowing in from other countries. While millions of people were being put out of work here in the US, wages in other countries were not improving. Only highly trained individuals with computer skills in the field of high technology would be capable of maintaining a high standard of living. Now those Information Technology positions are being "out-sourced." The February 3 edition of Business Week explains how US companies such as Bank of America, Texas Instruments, Intel, Lehman Brothers, Bear Stearns, Hewlett Packard, American Express, Dell Computer, Eastman Kodak, IBM, GE, Microsoft, Procter & Gamble and even Massachusetts General Hospital are hiring high tech workers in the Philippines, India, China, Russia, Eastern Europe, Costa Rica and South Africa. India seems to be one of the big winners in this "new economy." Indian radiologists interpret CT scans for Massachusetts General Hospital. Indian engineers design mobile-phone chips for Texas Instruments, while other Indians process claims for US insurance companies and home loans for US mortgage companies and design software for Microsoft.

Our US (multinational) corporations can hire these foreigners for an annual salary of $5,000; about 10 to 20 percent what it was costing them here in America. According to Business Week some four million jobs have already been moved to India. Proctor & Gamble's tax returns are prepared by accountants in the Philippines and Microsoft is spending $1.15 billion for out-sourcing in India and China over the next three years. Many of these high-tech employees have PhD's from US universities and our taxes paid for their education.

According to an e-mail I received from someone named Wayne, a few people are just starting to get a little common sense about what globalization, NAFTA and GATT economics really mean. Wayne then quoted a man from Mexico saying, “I do not see why the USA wants to do this, because in order for a world economy to work, all economies must be at the same level. I don’t think the USA can bring everyone up to your level, so you are going to have to come down to our level. We will all race to the bottom... . Like there is some great reward for having the lowest standard of living.” The race is on and the one-worlders are standing on the sidelines cheering us on Isn’t Global Trade Great?

Upgrade to paid

After GATT and NAFTA, our leaders (those DC Occupiers, occupying offices and cuttin’ deals) decided Free Trade would work even better... detect the sarcasm! Now we have President Donald J. Trump fixing all the bad trade deals and Making Trade Great and Fair Again in America.

Derry passed away unexpectedly March 12, 2011

Derry Brownfield was born in 1932 and grew up during the depression. He was a farmer and a broadcaster. Derry attended the College of Agriculture at the University of Missouri where he received his B.S. and M.S. degrees. He taught Vocational Agriculture several years before going to work as a Marketing Specialist with the Missouri Department of Agriculture. Derry served as Director of the Kansas City Livestock Market Foundation at the Kansas City Stockyard prior to establishing himself in farm broadcasting.

In 1972, Derry and his partner established the Brownfield Network which now serves 250 radio stations throughout the Midwest with news and market information. In 1994, Derry started his own syndicated radio talk show. He was one of the most popular radio talk show hosts in America. I cut my teeth in broadcasting and writing while working for Derry on his talk show, The Derry Brownfield Show.

When Derry passed away, there was a moment of silence on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives.

After the Brownfield family closed down Derry's show, I decided to "ride for the brand" and started my own talk show: CSC Talk Radio with the mission to... Bring America Home©

Some Of “Us, the American People” are none too happy when other people take to exercising free speech. Some of us might go so far as denouncing America’s 1st Amendment, because America’s 1st Amendment would allow blasphemy and mouthing offensive language. Require Citizen-Controlled Taxation

Best Wishes,

Len Ritchey

“Nothing is more difficult, and therefore more precious, than to be able to decide.”

~ Napoleon Bonaparte

“No tendency is quite so strong in human nature as the desire to lay down rules of conduct for other people.”

~ President Taft
